

effort to examine her might have an ill effect. One went so far as to say that any one who subjected her to cross-examination would be a "perpetrator of manslaughter."

Sensor Simpson, however, insisted that his witness, at the time he spoke, was able to tell her story and that she wished to do so. The physicians, nevertheless, took the view that an examination would jeopardize her life. Mr. McCarter remarked that the defense did not wish to subject Mrs. Gibson to any danger by the rigid cross-examination they felt was their right, but that they did not wish to grill her when their efforts might be curbed by a disinclination to imperil her life.

Believes She's Unreliable.

"I may say to your honor," said Mr. McCarter, "that we have every reason to believe that this person is thoroughly unreliable. She has given at least six different versions of the subject about this alleged murder. She has exhibited herself and her mule, Jenny, at a circus in New York. If she becomes a witness, we feel that it is our solemn duty to subject her to a palustating examination."

At the close of Mr. McCarter's statement Justice Parker and Judge Cleary retired to chambers and conferred briefly. They then announced that they would adjourn court for the half hour to 5:30 p. m. and would visit the hospital to determine the condition of Mrs. Gibson. The jurists slipped out of their black robes and drove to the hospital. They were conducted to the private ward where Mrs. Gibson was lying. They conversed with her a few minutes, with physicians standing by.

Find Witness Very Weak.

Shortly they returned to the court room. Justice Parker leaned forward, and as he spoke his eyes roved from Senator Simpson to Mr. McCarter, and thence to Clarence Case, also defense counsel.

"Judge Cleary and I have been down to the hospital," he said, "and we have seen Mrs. Gibson flat on her back in bed. Her pulse is high, her temperature is 104.4. We saw her and said a word to her. She is evidently very weak."

"I may say that Judge Cleary and I relied more on our own judgment in this matter than we did on the opinion of physicians. To us it was perfectly obvious that to attempt to examine this witness today would be utterly and absolutely futile. If she is to die she will have to die. The comatose condition, we were assured, will not come on tonight, and there does not seem to be any pneumonia. We have therefore decided that there shall be no examination today. Tomorrow morning we shall see how she is."

Calls This a Jazz Trial.

Neither Senator Simpson nor the defense lawyers would comment on the matter. Mrs. Henry Stevens, however, who has frequently commented on events in the investigation against her husband, which led to the indictment against him, was not so reticent. "This certainly is a jazz trial," she remarked. "I was highly amused at Senator Simpson's antics and I think it would be quite delightful if the entire court were moved to Mrs. Gibson's bedside. She must be quite ill."

Other Facts Brought Out.

The news that Mrs. Gibson was ill topped all developments of the second day of the trial. But there were other facts almost as important. Briefly, they were:

1. Admission in evidence of a calling card alleged to bear fingerprints of Willie Stevens. The card was discovered propped against the shoe of the rector when his body was found two days after he had been shot to death on Sept. 14, 1923. The defense fought strenuously against admission of the card, but the decision went against the defendants after three experts had testified that the marks on the card and the "arch" type finger whorls of Stevens were identical.

2. Announcement by Dr. Otto H. Schultze in Manhattan that his autopsy on the body of Mrs. Mills had convinced him that not only had her tongue been "torn" out after her death but that the larynx had been removed as well. He said the tongue and larynx had been removed by hand. He said that he would so testify when called at the trial.

Denies Seeing Henry Stevens.

3. Ralph V. Goralline, vestryman, and Miss Catherine Rastall, choir singer, took the stand and told of their visit to De Russey's lane on the night of the crime. Neither admitted recognizing the persons at the scene. Goralline denied he had ever told an ex-Burns detective named William Garven—who is to be a witness for the state—that he had encountered Henry Stevens at the scene and had been roughly ordered away after two shots had been fired at his feet.

Before the Mrs. Gibson sensation cropped out, the spectators in the courtroom had failed to get the expected number of thrills from important witnesses, including Goralline, the vestryman, and Miss Rastall, his companion on the automobile ride which took them to De Russey's lane the night of the double murder.

Heard Shots and Voices.

Goralline had been expected in some quarters to testify that he had seen and recognized Henry Stevens, one of the defendants at the murder scene. He made emphatic denial, although Mr. Simpson claims to hold an affidavit from a detective quoting Goralline to that effect.

Goralline told of driving his car, with Miss Rastall, to De Russey's lane and stopping within 700 feet of the crab-apple tree under which the murders were committed. He first heard muzzling voices, then a shot, and shortly three more shots. Without making any investigation he drove hurriedly away.

Miss Rastall corroborated Goralline's testimony and told in addition to their going back to the murder scene after the bodies had been discovered.

George Totten, a detective, identified the card found at Dr. Hall's feet. This card, the prosecutor claims, bears Willie Stevens' finger prints. Three finger print experts, Joseph Faurel, Edward Schwartz and Fred Drewen, identified the finger print on the card as that of Willie Stevens.

Visited Scene of Murder.

Mrs. Anna Hoag, who lives near De Russey's lane, was another witness. She testified that Henry Stevens visited her house and, later, the murder scene about a year after the crime. The Rev. J. Mervin Pettit, who succeeded Dr. Hall as rector of St. John's church at New Brunswick, described the interior of the church and study. Court will be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Dr. A. Anderson Lawton, Mrs. Gibson's physician, late tonight gave out a statement saying that her condition was improved. Her temperature had fallen and there was no immediate danger of death, he stated. "The prosecution will have to use its best judgment in the matter of removing her," he added, advising against this step if her condition remained unchanged tomorrow.

MONEY DISPUTE LEADS TO ROW; PREACHER HURT

The Rev. Hammer Schmidt, pastor of a Seventh Day Adventist church on Ashland avenue near 65th street, was seriously injured last night a fight at his home 6617 South Lincoln street, with Gustav Low, a resident of the same house.

Early in the evening the minister and Low, who is one of his parishioners, quarreled over payment of money which the church sent to its pastor while he and his wife were stranded in Germany. Low thought this should be repaid, but the minister stated he did not think the congregation wanted the money back. The police were called at that time, but things were quiet and no arrests were made.

Later Dr. Ira Greenberg, 185 West 63d street, was called. He found that the minister was suffering from an internal hemorrhage and in a serious condition. The police were called again. The wives of the two men and two colored parishioners were praying at the Rev. Schmidt's bedside. Low was taken to the Chicago Lawn station to be held until the outcome of the minister's injuries is determined.

SENDS WIFE OUT; KILLS SELF.

Nicholas Feldt, 85 years old, 2022 South Union avenue, died yesterday by inhaling gas. Too old to work, he sent his wife to the grocery, killed himself while she was away.

PORTUGUESE PAL MISSING; MAY BE KIDNAP VICTIM

Samuel Kaplan, one time partner of the late Jules Portugese, jewel thief and gangster who was assassinated several months ago, is missing and the police believe he may have been kidnapped on election day.

Attention was directed at Kaplan, who is a restaurant keeper at 551 Maxwell street, yesterday when the detective bureau was informed that a writ in his behalf had been filed in Judge John J. Sullivan's court. A checkup disclosed that Kaplan was not in custody and that no such writ had been taken into court. The police theory is that some friend of the missing man used this method to determine whether he was under arrest.

Kaplan is said to have worked hard at the polls during part of Tuesday and then disappeared.

Mabel Strickland Hurt in Fall Under Horse; May Die

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Mabel Strickland, champion horsewoman, was seriously injured at the opening here tonight of the world's series rodeo, when she lost her hold and fell under her mount. Physicians say her injuries may prove fatal.

COUNTY BOARD ACTS TO SPEED ROAD WIDENING

Backing up the individual pledges which tied up Cook county's $15,000,000 wide roads bond issue with the $22,000,000 widening and improvement program recommended by the wide highways advisory committee, the Cook county board yesterday adopted formal resolutions to rush widening and paving work on all highways in the advisory program. The resolution, introduced by President Anton J. Cermak, was adopted unanimously.

Frank J. Wilson, chairman of the roads and bridges committee, where the specific program was held awaiting success of the bond issue in Tuesday's election, declared that he will submit the program as a whole to Maj. G. A. Quinlan, county superintendent of highways, and ask that its provisions be worked out by county and city engineering departments and by the Region Planning association engineers. Surveys, estimates and the first contracts will be pushed through immediately, according to Maj. Quinlan, and as much of the work as possible will be started before winter halts construction.

DENIES MOTION FOR NOT GUILTY WINE VERDICT

Judge Refuses to Direct Jury; Case Goes On.

Federal Judge George A. Carpenter yesterday refused to order a directed verdict of not guilty in the sacramental wine scandal case in which Lowell B. Mason, reflected dry state senator from Oak Park, and Maj. Percy Owen, former Illinois dry director, are the current defendants.

In ordering the trial to proceed Judge Carpenter commented on the anticipated defense that Senator Mason's alleged and of wine payoffs was presented as legal fees.

"Such sums of money as those which, according to unshaken testimony, were paid to the defendant Mason are out of all proportion to what a lawyer would charge as fees for such services," Judge Carpenter said.

Referrals from More Comment.
The jurist then said he would refrain from commenting further on "these serious circumstances" because the jurors, though dismissed from the courtroom at the time, have access to newspaper accounts of the trial's progress.

Sharp questioning of witnesses by Judge Carpenter during the presentation of prosecution evidence is said to have brought a veritable panic among the government witnesses who are under indictment but testified in the hope, as they have admitted, that they might save their own skins.

All testified they have no immunity deal with the prosecution and are said to have admitted privately they don't think Judge Carpenter grasps their point of view or is in a mood to grant them freedom for their confessions.

Defense Starts This Morning.
Presentation of the defense will begin this morning at 10 o'clock. It was expected that Attorney Michael Feinberg, chief of counsel for Maj. Owen, would start the proceedings with the introduction of prohibition records showing that wine permits were granted as routine business, with no knowledge, on the part of Owen, that sacramental consumers were more thirsty than plous.

A long parade of character witnesses is expected both for Maj. Owen and Senator Mason. These witnesses are expected to testify about Senator Mason's long political record as a friend of the Volstead act, which he now is accused of breaking.

Ex-Dry Agent on Trial.
Another booze trial expected to throw further light on the technique of official enforcement will begin today when the government proceeds against Frank Hasset and Victor Burner, who were prohibition agents at the time of their arrest a year and a half ago.

The case is one in which John Patton, mayor of Burnham, is alleged to have been involved and includes charges that the agents seized a truckload of ale, sold the wet goods in Burnham, returned the truck to its owner for $1,000 as a down payment, and released the truckmen.

Police Witnesses on Both Sides.
South Chicago and highway police are scheduled as important witnesses on each side of the litigation. While the far south side contingent was preparing to go into court reports were in circulation about the federal building that eight policemen, three prohibition agents, a well known politician, and 40 others are to be indicted today or tomorrow by the new federal grand jury.

RUBBER TIED MILK DELIVERY WILL COME HIGH, EVANSTON TOLD

Evanston faces a milk famine if the city council passes an ordinance introduced to force the equipment of all milk wagons with rubber tires, and to have the horses that draw them rubber shod.

Six dairy companies have informed the council that they will not make early morning deliveries if the law goes into effect and stating that the price of milk will have to be raised to pay for rubberized deliveries. The companies also point out that it would be inhumane to shoe horses with rubber when streets are slippery.

The rubber tire ordinance was introduced at the request of Evanstonians who claimed their slumbers were interrupted before 6 a. m. by ringing hoofs and rumbling wheels. The dairymen say the rattle of bottles makes more noise than the hoofs and wheels.

NO CLEW FOUND IN BOMBING OF ROSENBERG HOME

Despite an intensive search, police of the detective bureau and the FBI have been unable yesterday to find any promising clues to the identity of the person who placed a bomb in the hallway of the home of Sanitary Trustee Michael Rosenberg, 1323 Independence boulevard.

The bomb was defective and no serious damage was done. Mr. Rosenberg asserted he was satisfied political enemies had tried to harm him because he had worked too hard for Democratic candidates in the election Tuesday.

ASK ARREST OF EX-OFFICIAL.
The Chicago police yesterday received from E. E. O'Connor, head of West Virginia state police, a request to arrest John C. Bone, former state auditor of West Virginia. According to O'Connor's message Bone is wanted on charges of embezzlement at Charleston, W. Va.

INDICTMENT OF ORMISTON NEXT MOVE BY KEYES

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Definite moves by District Attorney A. M. Keyes to place Kenneth G. Ormiston, fugitive radio man, in the seat in the defendants' row likely to be vacated by Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Siegar when Althea Semple McPherson and her co-defendants go before the Superior court for trial, were taken today.

Keyes announced he would present to the county grand jury the transcript of testimony taken at the evangelist's preliminary hearing on criminal conspiracy charges and ask that body to return a true bill against the former Angelus temple operator.

If an indictment is voted, Keyes pointed out, Ormiston can be placed on trial along with the other defendants if he is taken into custody.

Meanwhile Mrs. Wiseman, chief accuser of the pastor and co-defendant, is understood to have decided that before the trial begins in the higher court she will go before the court, plead guilty and ask for leniency.

With the trial of Mrs. McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, on charges of conspiracy to defeat justice and perjury less than sixty days away, Keyes was still working today to unearth new evidence to support his charge that the evangelist's kidnapping story was false.

VACANT COTTAGE COLLAPSES; BOYS AT PLAY INJURED

Two boys were injured late yesterday afternoon in the collapse of a vacant frame cottage at 1254 Dear street, in which they were playing.

They are Forrest Ayers, 13 years old, 1256 Dickson street, and Alex Boran, 13 years old, 1306 Dickson street. Both were treated for sprains and bruises and were taken to their homes.

Other boys playing nearby dragged the victims from the wreckage. They reported to the fire department that other lads had been playing in the house, and members of truck company No. 28 searched the ruins for an hour, satisfying themselves that if any others were in the place they had escaped.

The building and two others adjacent to it had been condemned.

STUDENTS WRECK BALLROOM AND STORM THEATER

Boston, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Six unconscious sophomores, several wrecked trolley cars, a damaged subway car and a partly wrecked public hall room were included in the havoc wrought tonight by 400 freshmen of Massachusetts Institute of technology. The riot carried the furious 400 from Cambridge to Park Square, Boston, via the subway, out to the back bay section when they were chased back to Cambridge by police reserves.

The trouble started when the freshmen broke up a sophomore banquet in a gymnasium by tossing tear gas bombs in the windows. The fire set all fight that followed ended with the wrecking of the building with an estimated damage of $1,500.

The 400 freshmen and 300 second year men then joined forces in a smoke dance. Window guards, glass and trolley ropes on half a dozen street cars were broken en route.

In Harvard square the mob charged the University theater and were beaten back by 12 Harvard men acting as ushers, and the manager.

FRANC HITS NEW HIGH; GAMBLING MANEUVER SEEN

Bank Statement Admits Big Inflation.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Nov. 4.—Persistent rumors of a gigantic international coup, played by finance magnates speculating in the franc, obtained support this afternoon when the French currency kept galloping upward, reaching 29½ to the dollar. The Bank of France in an official statement admitted there was an inflation of more than 1,000,000,000 francs ($23,500,000), and $50,000,000 additional francs ($25,000,000) had been advanced to the state treasury.

By printing 1,072,000,000 more paper francs ($25,512,000) during the last week, the bank now has a circulation of $5,650,000,000 francs ($1,564,275,000), and with the new loan to the treasury the state owes the bank $6,550,000,000 francs ($1,234,425,000).

Fear Sudden Big Drop.
Such an adverse bank statement formerly always weakened the franc, but today the latter was not affected. Reports insist that the exchange gamblers driving the franc upward in a tremendous spurt will suddenly pull out and let it drop like a plummet, reaping enormous profits.

The franc's steady improvement is bringing a sequel from those Frenchmen who insisted on making contracts and leases on a dollar basis when the exchange was weaker. Such Frenchmen now are invoking the constitutional law requiring all transactions here to be made in the national currency, thus escaping commitments made when they thought the franc was doomed.

Rents Bounce Up.
Foreigners who rented homes and offices when the franc was declining with the "dollar safeguard clause" now find their rentals increasing daily. Many who leased premises on a basis of 5,000 francs ($100) monthly in July now are paying at the rate of $168 a month because the French landlords will not recognize the gold parity guarantee clause, since it is working against them. In nearly every case the foreigners resign themselves to being trimmed because offices and apartments are so scarce. Even at the increased rentals they are cheaper than in other capitals.

In case a tenant or purchaser refuses to take it on the chin the French owners merely reply, "Take it to court," with the knowledge that they will win, as the French government does not recognize contracts negotiated in any currency but the French.

Hits Working Class.
But the pinch is beginning to be felt by the working classes of the French themselves, as the majority of prices and average cost of living today actually is higher than it was in mid-July. The prices of all commodities, steadily marked up since spring, when the franc began slipping daily, never have been reduced, or, if so, merely by a fraction of the amount they were increased, leaving everything well above the former levels.

$6,000,000 IN BONDED WHISKY IS SEIZED IN BROOKLYN WAREHOUSE

New York, Nov. 4.—Two hundred fifty thousand gallons of whisky, the largest seizure ever made in this country, was taken over by prohibition officials today when agents took charge of the Keat warehouse in Brooklyn, the largest bonded warehouse in the United States. Chester P. Mills, district prohibition administrator, placed the minimum value of the whisky at $6,000,000.

Prohibition agents believing the whisky, which was legally stored there, was being improperly handled, took action.

The purpose of making the seizure, Mr. Mills said, was to keep the whisky in its present form to make a complete regauge as to the amount and quality of every one of 5,000 barrels stored there.

Robbers entered the place several weeks ago through holes cut in the back wall and escaped with 23 barrels. They were stopped by a patrolman whom they shot and wounded.

COMMITTEE OF 70 PROTESTS COUNT IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 4.—An investigation of Tuesday's election in a number of precincts in this city where William B. Wilson, Democratic candidate for the United States senate, was not credited with a single vote, is to be made by the Committee of Seventy, an unofficial body.

E. L. D. Roach, secretary of the committee, said that agents would be sent into the districts to question voters. According to tabulations made before the official count was started today there were forty-four divisions in the city, most of them Vare strongholds, in which Mr. Wilson failed to receive a vote. In several other divisions the Democratic candidate was credited with only one vote.

Mr. Vare, whose plurality stood tonight at 183,458, with 187 of the 3,334 election districts in the state yet to be heard from, left for Florida yesterday.

WOMAN POINTS OUT JOE SALTIS AS FOLEY KILLER

State Rests; Defense to Open Today.

Two witnesses positively had identified Joe Saltis as the murderer of Mitter Foley when the prosecution completed its case yesterday in Judge Harry E. Miller's court.

Frank Koncil, who is on trial with Saltis, according to two other witnesses, was with Saltis in an automobile before the murder, but no witnesses identified him as among those present at the time of the killing.

Woman Principal Witness.

Mrs. Ruth Brown, 2321 West Sixty-fifth street, was the chief witness yesterday.

"I heard a shot and I looked out of my front room window," she testified.

"Did you see the men who were firing?" Lloyd D. Heth, special prosecutor, asked. "Yes," she said.

"Do you see in this courtroom any of the men whom you saw kill Foley?" Mr. Heth queried.

"I do," she replied, and her gaze met that of Saltis, who immediately turned his head.

"Point him out," Mr. Heth directed. "That man," Mrs. Brown said, indicating Saltis, just as John Dunn, a gardener, had done the day before.

Two Accusing Saltis.

That, in substance, was the state's proof. Mrs. Brown, who said she saw Saltis commit the murder, and Dunn, who said he saw Saltis walking away from Foley's body with a smoking shotgun in his hand.

On cross-examination, Attorneys W. W. O'Brien and Frank A. McDonnell were unable to weaken Mrs. Brown's testimony, and from Dunn their only comfort was in the fact he had only one eye.

The defense lawyers indicated they will attempt to show that Mrs. Brown was mistaken and that Dunn could not have seen what he said he saw.

Says He Saw Koncil.

The testimony of these two state's witnesses was corroborated in a measure by others. Chester Curry, a teamster working with Dunn, said he saw the four killers before the murder, but the only one whose face he saw was Koncil. He said, however, that Dunn was in a position to have seen the murderers.

The defense said it will show by other witnesses that Dunn did not arrive at the scene of the murder until the killers were gone.

FALLS TO DEATH IN LOOP HOTEL. Charles Goodell, 48 years old, was fatally injured yesterday when he fell from the sixth floor to the first floor in an elevator shaft at the Palmer house. He had been employed as a laborer.

BOY, AGED MAN KILLED BY AUTOS; TOLL IS NOW 756

Injuries received in an automobile accident five months ago caused the death yesterday of Vincent Dyer, 6 years old, 1538 North Monticello avenue. The boy was injured in front of 2619 West North avenue by an automobile driven by George Jaeger, 1346 North Walton avenue.

This death and two others yesterday raised the 1928 motor toll to 756.

VINCENT DYER.

North Sawyer avenue, suffered fatal injuries last night when he was struck by an automobile while in front of 1613 North Kedzie avenue. George Vachon, 2041 West 18th street, driver of the car, was taken into custody.

John Novak, 53 years old, 705 North Carpenter street, died in the County hospital of injuries received Oct. 1, when he was struck by an automobile. Police began an investigation to determine who was the driver of the car.

Wife's Plea Frees Ex-Cop Jailed in Alimony Fight

Joseph B. Faust, 27 years old, former policeman, who recently declared that going to jail was a pleasure compared with paying alimony to his wife, Mrs. Birdie Faust, 212 Lehigh avenue, was released yesterday by Judge Joseph Sabath on the plea of Mrs. Faust. He had served nine days and Mrs. Faust was unable to think of him being incarcerated longer, she told the judge.

5 MORE YEARS FOR MARTIN J. DURKIN; TOTAL NOW IS 45

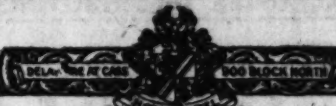

Five more years were added yesterday to the already long stretch that Martin J. Durkin must do in the state and federal prisons for the murder of Government Agent Edwin C. Shanahan and the transportation of stolen automobiles. The dapper alayer was found guilty a second time under the stolen auto law by a jury in Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe's court, and again given the five year limit.

Durkin now is under a 35 year sentence for the Shanahan murder and a total of ten years under the two federal convictions. The government plans to try him five more times, so that if convicted he will have to do 35 years in federal prison after his 35 years in the Illinois penitentiary.

Betty Werner, the girl Durkin discarded for the daughter of the village blacksmith in Cornell, Ill., again was the government's chief witness against him.

LABORER KILLED BY ENGINE.

Frank D. Romick, 50 years old, 823 South Larkin street, a laborer, was killed yesterday when struck by a truck engine in the Illinois Central yards near Adams street.

MAIN ELECTION BY-PRODUCT IS TIMBER FOR '28

White House Aspirants
Abound in Both Camps.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

In addition to jolting the hold of the Republicans on congress and registering considerable reaction against Volsteadism the national election last Tuesday made and unmade a number of presidential possibilities in both parties.

Promotion of Republican and Democratic booms for the White House will be one of the by-products of the activities of the seventeenth congress, which will meet in December, 1927, unless it should be called into extraordinary session earlier by the President. And there will be more than the usual amount of presidential timber available in the congress elected this week.

Dawes Strong With Farmers.
Presiding over the senate will be Vice President Dawes who is widely regarded as a 1928 presidential possibility of the first magnitude. By his support of the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill to boost the domestic prices of farm products over the world market prices he endeared himself to the farmers of the corn and wheat belts who are planning to renew their fight for farm relief legislation and to carry the issue into the 1928 election if necessary.

Inasmuch as the two major parties are about equally matched in the new senate, the vice president and his deciding vote will be in the spotlight from the moment that body assembles. The nearly complete returns from the election now definitely fix the complexion of the senate at 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats, and one Farmer Laborite. The Republicans will need

DEAD EIGHT MINUTES, CHILD BROUGHT BACK TO LIFE BY ADRENALIN

New York, Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Adrenalin administered into the heart of Raymond Siegfried, 22 months old, after he had been "dead" eight minutes in the Long Island College hospital, Brooklyn, today, brought the infant back to life. The operation was performed by Dr. Robert Cooley.

The attending ward physician would not explain the case in detail, but other hospital authorities admitted that the child had been to all appearances dead eight minutes.

The baby, son of William Siegfried of 6019 61st street, Brooklyn, was afflicted two weeks ago with a putrefaction in the vicinity of the spine. Despite the doctor's efforts the child this morning "died."

Eight minutes after the heart stopped beating, Dr. Cooley injected the adrenalin and massaged around the heart. The infant stirred. The doctor hopes for its ultimate recovery.

one more vote, the Democrats two to achieve a majority. It may devolve upon Gen. Dawes to enable the Republicans to organize the senate by resolving a tie vote and to make possible the passage of Republican measures in the same manner.

Longworth in Running.
A rival potential candidate for the Republican nomination for President will be found presiding over the house in the new congress in the person of Speaker Nicholas Longworth. Although the regular Republicans will be fewer in the new house as the result of reverses on Tuesday, they will still be sufficiently numerous to reflect Longworth to the speakership over the combined opposition of Democrats, the La Follette group from Wisconsin, and minor party members.

The returns on house contests, virtually complete last night, disclosed that W. H. Clark, Democrat, defeated Representative White, Republican, in the Sixth Kansas, and E. T. England, Republican, beat Representative Taylor, Democrat, in the Sixth West Virginia. This makes the lineup in the house 238 Republicans, 194 Democrats, 2 Farmer Labor, and 1 Socialist. The regular Republican majority will be 17, compared with 35 at present.

The qualifications of Speaker Longworth for the presidency are being advertised by his multitude of friends, the most engaging promoter of his boom being his wife, the brilliant daughter of the late President Roosevelt.

Will Need Ohio Delegation.

To enter the race for the nomination, the speaker will need the Republican delegation from his home state, Ohio, and there he will be up against a fight. Longworth is wet and Ohio has just rejected Senator Willis, Republican, who is the darling of the Anti-Saloon league. Longworth will be fought bitterly by the league and Willis is likely to seek the presidential nomination himself, with the backing of the league, and try to take the Ohio delegation away from the speaker.

Illinois also would be the scene of a spectacular battle over capture of the Republican delegation to the national convention if both Vice President Dawes and Frank O. Lowden should be candidates for the White House. Lowden is supposed to have had his eye on 1928 when he refused the nomination at Cleveland for the job Dawes accepted. But neither of them would get very far in 1928 without the backing of the Illinois delegation.

Whether President Coolidge will be a candidate for another term nobody knows, probably not even the executive himself. The popularity of the President is still rated exceedingly high.

Third Term Prejudice.

The opposition to the President intends to raise the third term objection and make the most of it. On the other hand, Coolidge partisans are no less confident that the third term objection will gain little support in the face of the consideration that the year and a half of the Harding term he filled out cannot justly be called his first term.

The Coolidge boomers also have in mind the possibility that the Democrats will nominate Al Smith or some other wet, in which event the third term argument, they think, would be quickly forgotten.

The Democrats are loudly proclaiming that the defeat of Senator Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, in Massachusetts despite the President's appeal for his return to the senate, sounds the knell of the Coolidge regime.

The Republicans lent some color to the Democratic theory by proclaiming the Massachusetts election a test of the popularity of the President. On the other hand, Butler's successful Democratic opponent, David L. Walsh, denied from the start that any test of Coolidge popularity was involved and not only advocated a protective tariff, but promised to support the President in the senate.

A study of the Massachusetts returns leads one to the conviction that the result of the election cannot reasonably be construed as a repudiation of the President. Mr. Coolidge failed to save Butler, while the Republican governor was overwhelming reflected.

There is every indication that Butler was defeated by intelligent wet Republicans who rejected the appeal of the President for his friend more in sorrow than in anger. They were intent upon gaining a wet vote in the senate, where a wet vote would count toward achieving modification of the prohibition law.

Hoover and Borah, Too.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover is looked upon as a likely candidate for the Republican nomination if the President should stand aside. Then there is Senator Borah of Idaho, whose denunciation of the proposals for modifying the Volstead act some months ago started talk that would be the 1928 favorite of the dry Republicans. On the Democratic side the election left Gov. Al Smith of New York the outstanding contender for the nomination of the Jeffersonians. The second choice of the wet Democrats is Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, whose prestige, like Smith's has been enhanced by rejection.

Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, who is wringing wet, is regarded a candidate for the Democratic nomination. Whether McAdoo will be a candidate again is problematical. The dry western Democrats seem to be looking with favor upon Ed Meredith of Iowa.

G. H. Combs, 27, Missouri, New "Baby" of U. S. House

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 4.—[AP]—George H. Combs Jr., 27 year old congressman-elect from the fifth Missouri district, will go to Washington as the "baby member" of congress. Combs, a Democrat, who ousted the veteran Republican, E. O. Ellis, from his seat, will depose Samuel J. Montgomery of Bartlesville, Okla., the "baby" of the last house. Montgomery is 36 years old.

ENGLISH RESIGNS AS IMPEACHMENT TRIAL IS NEARING

Charges Before Senate
May Be Dropped.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Approved of the President's acceptance of the resignation of Federal Judge George W. English of the Eastern district of Illinois, managers chosen by the house to conduct his impeachment before the senate decided today to ask for a continuance of the hearing scheduled for Nov. 19 until after the regular session of congress convenes on Dec. 6, when they will recommend that the proceedings be abandoned.

The resignation of Judge English was delivered at the White House by Edward C. Kramer, St. Louis, one of the jurist's attorneys.

In resigning, Judge English said he felt that he had discharged his duties to the best of his ability, "yet I have come to the conclusion on account of the impeachment proceedings against me, regardless of the final result thereof, that my usefulness as a judge has been seriously impaired."

Newspaper Started Fight.

Charges against Judge English were first published by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch two years ago. Representative Harry B. Hawes (D.), elected senator from Missouri Tuesday, demanded that the house investigate.

Judge English, appointed by Wilson for the southern district of Illinois, was impeached on five counts, the charges including mishandling of bankruptcy funds, disbarment of two lawyers, and use of profane, indecent, and obscene language in court. Only the bankruptcy fund charge is regarded as indictable, but there is no indication that the department of justice will do so.

Among other charges were that Judge English usurped his authority over state officials, threatening juries and lawyers in court.

The jurist denied every count, but impeachment was voted by the house last April.

Would Be Liable to Sentence.

If found to trial and found guilty by the senate, English would be liable to sentence, authorized by the constitution, barring him forever from holding any public office of honor, trust, or profit.

"The primary purpose of this impeachment proceeding," declared Representative Michener (Rep., Mich.), chairman of the managers, speaking for his colleagues, "is to remove from office an official whose the house of representatives has determined to be unfit to further perform the duties of the office. The managers on the part of the house of representatives are charged with the responsibility of presenting the facts to the senate. Judge English has tendered his resignation to the President and the resignation has been accepted; he is no longer a United States district judge and the primary purpose of the impeachment proceedings has been accomplished.

Will Ask Senate Not to Act.

In consideration of Judge English's resignation and its acceptance, two managers have determined to ask the senate not to proceed with the impeachment trial on Nov. 19, and will request that the matter be continued before the senate until the regular session of the congress, which convenes on the first Monday in December.

Senators now in Washington, including Senator Curtis (Rep., Kan.), the Republican leader, Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.), who probably will become the chairman of the senate judiciary committee, and Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho), agreed that, in spite of English's resignation, the senate must meet on Nov. 19, when it probably will accede to the request of the house managers.

DUCE UNLEASHES ITALY; DECREES DEATH TO FOES

Pledges Vengeance in Talk to Roman Throng.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Rome, Nov. 4.—Decisions of the utmost importance were promised the Roman fascists by Premier Benito Mussolini and the fascist press tonight. The duce accepted their homage at Chigi palace at the conclusion of the Italian celebration on the eighth anniversary of Italy's victory over Austria.

After repeated demands the Duce appeared on the famous balcony to accept the plaudits of the crowd and was forced to say a few words.

"I want to tell you three things," he said, after being recalled by the clamor of the populace. "First of all I want to thank you for your salute, in which I perceive the ardor and sincere faith which has inspired all the black shirts of the city; second, this is not the hour to make speeches; third, tomorrow morning you will have the action you await."

A Promise of Vengeance.
These cryptic words are accepted here as a promise to take the following action at the grand council of the Fascist party tomorrow:

1. Dissolution of all opposition parties.
2. Permanent suppression of the opposition newspapers.

3. Acceptance of a proposal demanding the death sentence for Sigs. Zaniboni, Capello and Ducetti, who were arrested for plots to kill Premier Mussolini.

Never has the duce been given a warmer reception than that accorded him by the blackshirts assembled in the Piazza Colonna this morning at the close of the parade and ceremonies at the tomb of the unknown soldier. As the last units of the Fascist militia passed Chigi from the unknown soldier's tomb the crowd sent up cries of "Il Duce," applauding the leader who had recently escaped death by a miracle.

Crowds Acclaim "Il Duce."

The shutters leading to the balcony finally opened and the duce came out alone, while frenzied cries of joy and acclamation rent the air. The duce

ADMIT TAX PROPOSAL BEATEN; CANAL LEASE FATE STILL IN DOUBT

With returns from 1,514 downstate precincts missing, friends of the state tax amendment conceded last night that the proposal had lost because it lacks the required majority of all votes cast at the election.

Although the measure is leading 429,888 to 343,978, the total vote for it is not expected to exceed 875,000. Close to 1,800,000 votes were cast in the state for senator. Thus it is estimated the proposal will have but 28 per cent of the total vote, whereas 51 per cent is needed to change the constitution.

The fate of the Illinois and Michigan canal lease proposition, which comes under the same requirement, is still undecided. With 1,500 precincts not heard from the proposal was leading 609,960 to 270,332.

bowed his appreciation to those on the Piazza Colonna and then faced the other groups in the Largo del Tritone as members of his immediate staff.

made their appearance with him on the balcony.

He retired at once but took a curtain call when the throng insisted. This time he held up his hand for silence and spoke the brief words quoted. On the balcony with him was Mario Garibaldi, grandson of Italy's great patriot, who led the Garibaldi veterans in this morning's parade.

After the ceremonies the associations of war volunteers presented Premier Mussolini with a replica of an ancient Roman sword. The veterans had assembled at the altar of Caesar in the Roman forum and marched to Chigi palace.

The premier accepted the gift with a brief address, in which he said: "Comrades, I accept with deep thankfulness your gift, which pleases me especially because of its symbolic value. I have justly said, 'This is the hour for considered, direct action.' We are in a transitory period from which the future will spring. We need true hearts and souls tempered by sacrifice."

Asks Death Penalty.

The demand for the retroactivity of the death decree for political assassins, made by the Fascist secretary, Sig. Turati, was the chief topic of conversation in Rome tonight. A council of the ministers has been called for to-orrow, to be held before the grand council of the Fascist party.

Premier Mussolini, Minister of Justice Alfredo Rocco, Minister of the Interior Luigi Federzoni and Secretary Turati conferred for more than an hour at Chigi palace this morning. All details of the measure to be brought before the council of the party were placed in their final form by the Duce. Parliament has been ordered to assemble on Nov. 9 to consider the measure approved by the party council. The decision on the retroactivity of the death penalty, which would rest with the king if action were taken by ministerial decree, probably will be left to parliament. In the event that the deputies are asked, and approve the party's request, the king will be bound to sign the measure.

Older Fascists Object.

Among the older Fascists there is direct opposition to the retroactivity demand as a blow at the whole Italian legal structure. Other measures which the council will discuss include the organization of the Fascist police and acceptance of the proposal to exile political criminals to the penal colonies.

In Padua secret squadrons already are organized "for political vigilance in city and province," according to the official announcement of the regional party secretary. These squadrons will have the "duty to watch over everything and every one in a manner that will permit no one to take an attitude disrespectful to the regime, even well intentioned criticism against Fascism and its men."

Details of new outrages, mostly against the Fascists, were received in Rome this morning. They include a bomb thrown into the militia barracks at San Pietro del Corso, killing one and wounding two. Many communists have been arrested in connection with the bombing. One Fascist was killed and four wounded at Vada, near Leghorn, and two Fascists wounded at Siena.

The police chief of Genoa retired this morning.

Editors and Deputy Beaten.
Two editors and the manager of the newspaper Il Mondo were severely beaten in Rome last night, as was the communist deputy, Oro Nobili.

The first important arrest since the last attempt on the life of Premier Benito Mussolini was made today at Leghorn, when the Maximalist deputy, Riccardo Capocchi, was seized. Authorities said incriminating documents were found in his house.

The book publishing firm known as "Tyrol," where the German organs Volkshelb, Volkshote, and Dolomiten are published, was taken over by the police. The houses of several leading Germanophiles were searched.

DRY CHIEF'S WIFE SAYS: "WE DON'T LIKE DRY LAW"

But the Andrews Family Obeys It, She Adds.

Mrs. Lincoln C. Andrews, wife of the assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement in the United States, is not a prohibitionist.

Furthermore, she is keenly interested in seeing the people of America get what they want in the way of wet legislation.

If they want modification of the Volstead amendment they should get it, she thinks, or if they want total repeal, they should get that, as soon as possible.

new venture, as assistant vice president of the Clara Laughlin Travel Service, which has offices in the Pine Arts building, Mrs. Andrews yesterday declared herself much interested in the results of Tuesday's vote on the wet referendum in eight states, six of them voting wet, Missouri electing a wet senator, Colorado alone really voting dry convictions.

"It proves that Volsteadism is not the universal expression of opinion in America," she asserts. "By freely registering their feeling on prohibition, people of those states will help others to crystallize their uncertain views, determine what they want."

Beer and light wines should come back if they're wanted, Mrs. Andrews believes. She expressed admiration for men like George E. Brennan, who faced the electorate openly on an important current question.

Husband Only Officially Dry.

"Neither Mr. Andrews nor myself was eager for prohibition," she declared. "While in office he will enforce the law as long as it remains a law. When the people prove they no longer want it Mr. Andrews will gladly let it go down. He has been a thankless job from the first."

Mr. Andrews, his wife said, always has been more interested in the problem of trying to enforce the law than in the cause which he represented. "Vicious rings of bootleggers are the staunchest supporters of prohibition and make repeal of the act ever more difficult," Mrs. Andrews said. "The richer and more powerful they grow, the harder it becomes to get rid of Volsteadism."

Andrews Family Obeys Law.

"Neither myself, my husband, nor our son has touched liquor since the law became effective," she said, "but that does not mean we would not welcome the day when actually nonintoxicating beverages could be brought into our own home without fear of breaking some law."

LARGER TIPS FOR BELLBOYS SOUGHT IN HOTEL SCALE

Tippling isn't compulsory, nor are amounts fixed, but if you would conform to the standards which will be set by the Jackson Park Hotel association, you must hunt for two cents at most every time you ask for "extra" service. For, although the dime is acceptable, bellboys and elevator operators will soon expect 15 and 20 cent tips for services they used to do willingly for 10 cents.

Bellboys of the Windermere Hotel were instrumental in helping K. E. Boussum, association secretary, draw up a tentative scale of tips yesterday, a scale that other hotels of the association will be asked to approve and put into effect next Monday night when officers of the group are elected at the Madison Park hotel. The purpose of the scale is to help employees and to guide many guests who find themselves in a quandary over the size of tips, according to Boussum.

Sending the bellboy to the newsstand calls for 10 or 15 cents, while the errand for tea and drug packages should bring 15 cents. Drinks from the fountain should be rewarded by 20 cents, while carrying heavy baggage is worth 25 cents. The elevator boy should get $1.00 per month.

Keeping Your Schoolgirl Complexion

By IRENE CASTLE

Wash Face?—Yes

But mind what sort of soap you use

Take care that you use only such soap as is made solely to protect the complexion, then always according to this simple rule.

FOREMOST skin authorities urge washing the face regularly as essential to natural complexion clearness. But all urge greatest care in selecting the kind of soap one uses.

Risking a precious complexion to an unproved soap is a folly. The only kind of soap to use on your face is a soap made solely to safeguard the complexion. Lather and cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care.

The accepted skin care of today starts largely with Palmolive, a soap made of rare cosmetic oils, a soap made for one purpose only—to be used freely and lavishly on the skin.

The rule in skin care Experts urge is this Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge, if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

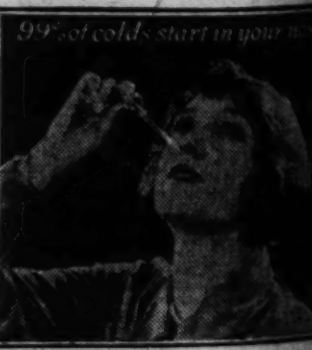

Get real Palmolive

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake!—a little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

New Method Quickly Breaks Head Colds

A FEW drops of Nozol keeps your nose clean and healthy and removes danger of head colds. If your head is clogged, your eyes watering, and it is hard to breathe, just use a few drops of Nozol and see how Nozol gives immediate results.

Break up that cold in the nose and head. It is dangerous and may lead to most serious results. Thousands of Chicagoans are praising the merits of Nozol and druggists and physicians are recommending it.

DEVER RESTS AND MAYORALTY BEE STARTS BUZZING

Judge Sabath Announces He's Willing to Run.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Mayorality politics crashed into the tall lights of the late senatorship county jobs campaign yesterday. Mayor Dever popped off to Excelsior Springs, Mo., to commune with his golf sticks for a week and at both Democratic and Republican headquarters the batters, still figuring up Tuesday's election pluralities, between whites discussed with bated breath whether he will or he won't run again. The mayor has made no official pronouncement one way or the other on a second term. To some of his intimates he has indicated that he does not want to run again. But politicians say they all always talk that way and they make a discount for the conventional cynicism. Among the Democrats the assumption has been that the mayor can have a renomination if he wants it, and after George H. Brennan's sweeping of Chicago Tuesday for senator they are confident of duplicating it in April on mayor.

Democrats Push to Record.
The Democrats this time are equipped with a unique bonus. It is this: Almost four years in the city hall and not a breath of scandal. It is regarded as an astonishing record for Chicago. After wallowing the white pill around the course at the Springs for a week Mayor Dever is expected to return with definite word of his intentions, so that the campaign can get off to an early start for the vote next spring. If he decides not to run again, the woods are full of candidates. Judge Joseph Sabath, dean of divorce judges in Chicago, who is said to have heard more cases of family disruption than any other jurist, said yesterday he would be a candidate if Dever does not run. The judge says he was impelled to make known his provisional candidacy at the solicitation of friends and political organizations.

Other Candidates Whining.
Many other lightning rods are up. Chief among them mentioned, in case Dever retires, are Edward J. Kelly, president of the south park board, P. J. Carr, county treasurer and sheriff-elect, Commissioner A. A. Sprague, Pat A. Nash and Edward N. Hurley, former head of the U. S. shipping board.

Mr. Kelly was manager of the Brennan campaign and by Democrats is rated as a candidate who might, next to Dever, make the most of the record on public improvement building which will be a Democratic center piece in the appeal for votes. The construction of Wacker drive, the river straightening agreement and other achievements in the physical improvement of Chicago, as well as the freedom of the city hall from scandal under Dever, are considered great campaign assets by the Democrats. The Kelly candidacy, it is argued, would give them a chance to link up all this with the great improvements along the lake shore from Grant park south under the south park board of which Kelly is head.

Friends of Sheriff-elect Carr point to his vote getting prowess, and to his plurality Tuesday of 125,000, the top-notch for the day. Those who are urging Mr. Hurley point to his record in high places under the federal government. This list of candidates is far from complete. If Dever should not run, all the old geraniums of bygone years are expected to blossom again.

Mirrors in G. O. P. Camp.
On the Republican side, affairs are somewhat in chaos. The Deven group is talking of County Recorder Joseph R. Hines and James A. Keena, chief clerk of the Municipal court, Edward H. Litzinger, member of the board of review, is regarded as a potential candidate, but the Devenites have never quite forgiven him for running in the last mayoralty primary, after the Deven group had signed up to go along with Postmaster Leaders for mayor. Charles V. Barrett of the board of review has for long time been regarded as a serious possibility, and his feat of last Tuesday in rolling up a plurality of 105,000 for reelection, in the face of a Democratic split on most of the major county offices, is taken as offsetting any dimming of strength as a mayoralty contender that may have come from the losses sustained by the Deven-Barrett organization on county offices.

Dr. Dill-Sig Bill Foreworks.
The chief question concerning the launching of Dr. John Dill Robertson's candidacy among the politicians yesterday was whether the $50,000 check displayed at the coming out party was for real dough. William Hale Thompson, fresh from Minnesota, where Magnus Johnson lost for governor by an overwhelming vote, takes his regular cutting down river shortly, and the politicians are getting in for dinner when the candidates for May 231 and Dr. Dill call.

Husband's Divorce Bill Says He Had 15 Rivals
Peter Smith, president of the Great Lakes Lumber company, St. Clair, Mich., had fifteen rivals for the job of his wife, Mrs. John Smith, 5304 Harper avenue, according to a divorce bill for divorce filed yesterday in answer to her suit for separate maintenance. Mrs. Smith was prominent in Detroit society before coming to Chicago. A. R. D. Allen of Detroit, W. S. Lamm, Atlantic hotel, Chicago, and William Grady of Michigan City, were accused by the husband in his bill.

KRESGES DROP LEGAL BATTLES; NO EXPLANATION

Attorney Dodges Talk of Reconciliation.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—

Sebastian S. Kresges, chain store magnate and prohibition leader, today withdrew his divorce action against Doris Mercer Kresges, his second wife.

Judge Adolph P. Marachner in the Circuit court signed Kresges' petition for the withdrawal. Paul W. Voorhies, attorney for Kresges, then went to the county clerk's office, where the bill of complaint in the suit was delivered to him. It had been kept locked in the vault, and the charges were never revealed.

Mr. Voorhies told Judge Marachner Mrs. Kresges had withdrawn the divorce suit she started in New York. The withdrawal here was without costs and without prejudice, so it may be started again.

All Litigation Dropped.
Mr. Voorhies said later that all litigation between Kresges and his wife had been brought to an end.

"The parties are now right back where they were before Mr. Kresges filed his suit here," Mr. Voorhies said. "By that I mean they are in the same status legally. I do not know that a reconciliation is to be brought about. That was not one of the considerations in dropping the legal actions."

"Of course, I cannot discuss the possibility of such a reconciliation. There was no financial settlement of any kind in this agreement."

The Kresges were married in 1924, about a year after the merchant had been divorced by Mrs. Anna Harvey Kresges.

History of Litigation.
Early this year Doris Mercer Kresges filed suit for $2,000,000 against her husband, claiming the sum under a prenuptial agreement. The case was settled out of court, and Mr. and Mrs. Kresges, who had separated, were reconciled.

Soon after Mrs. Kresges sailed for Europe this summer her husband filed suit for divorce in Detroit and upon Mrs. Kresges' return to the United States she fought it. In October she obtained an injunction from the Supreme court of New York, contending that as a resident of New York he had no standing in a Michigan court.
Mrs. Kresges had filed a suppressed answer and cross bill. Kresges might have taken a decree by default, but he failed to do so. It was believed here that this was predicated upon the injunction signed by Supreme Court Justice Levy of New York state, attacking the divorce jurisdiction of Michigan courts.

DISCHARGED; BOMB COAL FIRM

Small Asks New Judge to Hear Barbour Slander Suit

Gov. Len Small through his attorneys yesterday protested to Superior Judge Joseph B. David that the court would not grant him a fair trial in the $50,000 slander suit filed against him by State Senator James J. Barbour and succeeded in obtaining a reassignment of the suit. Judge Hugo Pan will assign a new judge to hear the case in which Barbour charges that Small slandered him in campaign speeches.

Found Shot Dead in Hotel Room with Revolver Near

With a bullet in his right temple the body of Frank J. Haycock, 45 years old, of Antioch, Ill., was found yesterday in his room at the Sheraton hotel, 544 Eastwood avenue. A revolver was found near the body. Albert Frost, manager of the hotel, told Town Hall police that Haycock had been coming to the hotel at intervals for six or seven years. He said he believed Haycock was an agent for a tractor firm.

PUTNAM LISTS FIVE SITES FOR CHICAGO HARBOR

Outlines Tentative Plans for Project.

Sites for harbor development in the vicinity of Chicago proposed by the Commercial club to meet the needs arising from the Lakes to Gulf and St. Lawrence waterway projects were set forth tentatively yesterday by Maj. Putnam W. Putnam, chief engineer for the harbor plan of Chicago. One, and possibly two, of the listed sites will be converted into harbors.

The locations considered are in general:

1. Near the Wisconsin-Illinois line, probably in Wisconsin.
2. At the Municipal pier.
3. Somewhere between 16th and 31st streets.
4. Near the Illinois-Indiana line.
5. Beyond Calumet on the Indiana shore.

Must Meet Six Standards.
None of these sites has as yet been considered superior to another, but the one selected must measure up to the six requirements outlined by Maj. Putnam for an ideal harbor.

The deciding factors will be cost, service of ships, rail and water interchange, ship to truck facilities, lake boat to river barge accommodations and industrial port facilities.

In the event that the port is situated either in Indiana or Wisconsin a treaty between states will be necessary to insure mutual benefits, Maj. Putnam pointed out. The treaty consideration will be involved in the question of maintenance and operation of the harbor.

Six Types of Government.
The government of the harbor may be entrusted to one of six possible agencies, Maj. Putnam explained. The city might take it over as a department, as is done in Philadelphia, Baltimore, or Antwerp. The French system of investing control in the chamber of commerce is a possibility; in San Francisco and New Orleans a state board functions, while a board of trustees representing the national, provincial, and city governments and the majority of business men, all serving without pay, directs the Liverpool and London harbors. The Marseilles, France, harbor is managed by a concessionaire, and the Hamburg port is under federal operation.

The plan which Maj. Putnam is developing will be similar to the Chicago plan commission's report, he said. A general policy will be outlined to be filled in during a period of years.

Must Wait on Freight Traffic.
The scale of the proposal cannot be set forth, he declared, until the potential freight traffic which the waterway developments will attract is accurately estimated.

The Commercial club committee supervising the report consists of John D. Farrell, chairman; John T. Pirie, Frederick Rayson, Gen. Abel Davis, Rufus Daves, A. A. Sprague, E. N. Hurley, W. R. Abbott, and Charles Markham. The investigation will be completed and the suggestions turned in on July 1, 1927.

WEALTHY BRITON KILLS WIFE, SELF IN PRINCE'S HOME

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, Nov. 4.—Roscoe Brunner, millionaire business man, until recently chairman of the great chemical firm of Brunner, Mond & Co., and his wife were found shot last night in the country house near London belonging to Prince Ferdinand of Lichtenstein, who recently married their daughter. It was evident that Mr. Brunner murdered his wife and then killed himself. Mr. Brunner had been in bad health for some time, and recently was forced to resign the chairmanship of the firm, which was merged into the great British chemical trust just formed, of which the leading spirit is Sir Alfred Mond, his cousin.

It is supposed that he brooded over this and suddenly became insane. Brunner was known as a novelist, under the name of Sheila Brunner.

RESOLUTION SENT COOLIDGE O. K.'S GAS IN BATTLE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Resolutions opposing ratification by the senate of the Geneva gas protocol forbidding the use of poison gas in warfare were sent to President Coolidge today by the Reserve Officers' Association of the United States. Similar copies of the resolutions were sent to Secretary of War Davis and to all senators.

This resolution is the third of the same nature to be indorsed within the last few days by veterans' organizations. The others were passed by the American Legion, which is leading the fight against the agreement and the Association of Military Surgeons.

In all these resolutions it is asserted that ratification of the gas protocol by the senate would seriously jeopardize the best interests of the nation.

FRENCH POLICE NAB 109 FOR PLOT TO INVADE SPAIN

Grandson of Garibaldi Is Arrested at Nice.

BY LANSING WARREN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PERPIGNAN, France, Nov. 4.—
French secret police today rounded up 109 members of the "Catalan army" being organized on the border for a dash into Spain to free Catalonia from the rule of Madrid and overthrow the Spanish dictator, Gen. Primo de Rivera.

Seventeen conspirators were arrested at Prats de Mollo, a border town in the heart of the Pyrenees mountains, while the others were seized at nearby border points. Police believe the plot is now crushed.

Lieut. Col. Francisco Macia, the tall, grizzled Don Quixote who directed the daring enterprise, was captured with three of his principal aids, Señors Callas, Bordas, and Gassio, and brought immediately to Perpignan by auto, where they maintained defiance. "The revolt is not beaten, only postponed," Col. Macia said. "Catalonia will rise again."

The other members were gaining the Spanish border by half a dozen conveying roads. They planned to dash to Barcelona, which action was to have been the signal for all Catalonia to spring to arms.

Ninety of the men captured are Spaniards and the remainder Italians, mainly anti-Fascists, but including Thomas Beltrand, a former general on Premier Mussolini's staff, who had been disgraced and expelled from Italy. Another Italian, Arturo Rizzoli, was a lieutenant in the Italian army.

Heavily armed police cars left here today to hunt arms cached by the revolutionists.

Col. Garibaldi Arrested.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

NICE, France, Nov. 4.—Ricciotti
Garibaldi, a colonel of the Garibaldi legion and grandson of the famous Italian patriot, was arrested here today by French authorities for questioning in connection with the recent plot against Premier Benito Mussolini.

Col. Garibaldi also was accused of being involved in the attempts of a band of Italians and Spaniards to invade Catalonia from Perpignan Monday night.

The colonel was summoned to defective headquarters after the French received reports from Rome complaining of his activities. His house was searched and numerous incriminating documents were seized.

The detectives indicate they possess proofs that Col. Garibaldi is connected closely with Sig. Scovel, who is said to be the anti-Fascist head selected to make the next attempt to assassinate Sig. Mussolini. It is reported plans are under way for an attempt next week.

Attacks Spanish Dictator.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
MADRID, Nov. 4.—Gen. Primo de

Rivera today lifted the censorship restrictions long enough to permit the newspapers to print the strongest attack against the dictatorship and constitutional assembly yet published.
The attack was made by Count de
Romanones, former premier and a Liberal, which is the second strongest party in parliament.

The count tore the proposed assembly to shreds, saying that the body would be unconstitutional. The article winds up with an ominous warning:
"Sooner or later Spain must resume charge of its destinies, exercising its own powers and functions. When this happens it will return to a constitutional government, with or without a monarchy."

The count counsels: "Let us lament
the monarch who alienates himself from the only system of government in which we have faith."

Fall Plot Against Dictator.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BARCELONA, Nov. 4.—The Spanish directory tonight announced that another plot against the life of the Spanish dictator, Gen. Primo de Rivera, had been uncovered and suppressed by secret service police.

King of England Shoots

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Venison were shot by the king last week.

MERRIAM FINDS RUSSIA WORKING ON SOLID BASIS

U. of C. Professor Tells of Visit Abroad.

Russia's political structure is built on a foundation that will never be shaken, in that the lands have passed from the hands of the nobles into the hands of the peasants who will never give up, it was stated by Prof. Charles E. Merriam, chairman of the department of political science at the University of Chicago, speaking at a forum luncheon at the City club yesterday.

With the landholders comprising 85 per cent of the population, their power to maintain their grip on the lands on which they once ruled as serfs is absolute, Prof. Merriam asserted. He returned last summer from a visit to Russia and other European countries which he toured to make observations on political and economic conditions.

Revolt Called a Success.

On the agrarian basis, the revolt of Russia has been a success, the professor went on. But the efforts to nationalize industry and to establish radical economic methods have had far more dubious results, he said, and are still subject to change.

As to the happiness of the people, released from the bondage of the Romanoffs, it would seem to be genuine, for Prof. Merriam described the great national pride of the Russians and the unity of purpose in which they stand. And the subservience of the lower classes, the cringing under the whip of autocracy, is ended, never to return, Prof. Merriam said. Even the expression "master," used in address, has been lost to the Russian language, it being a rare thing today to hear an aged survivor of the old regime use the salutation which once he would never have dared to omit.

Masters in Politics.

Russia's propaganda for communism, about which so much has been said in America, is much better spread there in Russia than anywhere else, Mr. Merriam declared. The soviets have mastered politics, whether they have failed in economics or not.

While condemning what they call American capitalism, the Russians are highly envious of the American ability to organize and manage business affairs, said Dr. Merriam. The best known American in the Russian mind is Henry Ford, and some leaders have conceived dreams of "Fordizing" Russia, the speaker said. He also pictured the great reception accorded Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford when they came to Russia.

"The Russian movement is on the one hand a tremendous exhibition of the power of the mass of the people to overthrow and punish tyrants in government and exploiters in industry," Dr. Merriam declared. "But on the other hand it is an impressive demonstration that revolution cannot go faster or farther either in government or industry than the technical skill and managerial ability of its leaders permit."

SLAYING PASTOR TO FACE TRIAL AT AUSTIN ON JAN. 10

Austin, Tex., Nov. 4.—Trial of Dr. J. Frank Norris, Baptist minister, for the slaying of D. C. Chipps, wealthy lumberman in the office of the First Baptist church of Fort Worth last July, was tentatively set for Jan. 10 here late today. The case was sent to Austin on a change of venue.

Opposing counsel agreed tentatively on the date, Judge J. R. Hamilton of the Travis county district court having informed the attorneys he would accept any date on which they decided.

The contention of the defense that Dr. Norris could not obtain a fair trial in Fort Worth resulted in the transfer of the case here.

DEBITS DIVORCE FIGHT REVIVED BY CASH TANGLE

After five years of litigation, Mrs. Mable Debits, 444 Surf street, and Julius Debits, wealthy automobile dealer, were about to settle their domestic difficulties yesterday before Judge Joseph Sabath, when an argument about a financial settlement stopped the proceedings. As a result the Debits case probably will make a record as the oldest divorce case in the county before it is finally settled.

Attorney Frank E. Cantwell, representing Mrs. Debits, stopped his client's testimony when it became apparent that Debits wished to make his wife waive her dower rights in return for $150 monthly alimony. He and Attorney Charles E. Erbstein, representing the husband, could not agree on the financial question. Judge Sabath, who was on the point of granting a decree, granted the petition of both sides to withdraw and stand trial on a contested suit.

RUSSIA'S WOMAN DIPLOMAT DENIED ENTRY INTO U. S.

Envoy to Mexico Cannot Pass This Way.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's only woman diplomat, Mme. Alexandra Kollantay, has been denied admission to the United States under the law which Secretary Kellogg invoked a year ago to debar the Countess Karolyi of Hungary and first brought into play to prevent the entry into this country of Shapurji Saklatvala, then communist member of the British parliament.

Mme. Kollantay, who formerly was soviet minister to Norway and now is minister-designate to Mexico, is in Mexico en route to her post in Mexico City. She desired to visit the United States in traveling to the Mexican capital, but has been compelled to abandon that plan by the refusal of the American consul general in Berlin to extend the necessary passport visa.

With its full approval, the consul general, whose action, the department announced, was taken with its full approval, denied the visa request on the ground that Mme. Kollantay was "one of the outstanding members of the Russian Communist party, a member of the third congress of the communist international, who has been actively associated with the international communist subversive movement."

The law enforced by Secretary Kellogg against this daughter of a famous czarist general, who has represented high lineage in old Russia's aristocracy to embrace bolshevism, was laid down in an executive order issued by former President Woodrow Wilson in 1918. Secretary Kellogg is thoroughly in sympathy with the state and has shown his determination to enforce it to the letter and without favor in cases where aliens trying to enter the United States are shown to be advocates of anarchy, revolution, or agitation.

Kellogg Lays Down Policy. Under the presidential proclamation and the congressional act of May, 1918, Secretary Kellogg has laid down a policy for all foreign service officers, forbidding them to grant visas except when the applicant makes it evident beyond doubt that there is reasonable necessity for entry into the United States and that his presence will not be prejudicial to the interests of government or society.

In the cases of the Count and Countess Karolyi and Shapurji Saklatvala Secretary Kellogg let it be known that he believed that undesirable aliens could be excluded from the country more safely than they could be dealt with if the doors were thrown open and the authorities left to cope with any situation that might arise if they were admitted.

Japanese Naval Budget Increased by $24,000,000

J. S. WILLIAMS, WILSON WARRING APPOINTEE, DIES

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4.—(AP)—John Skelton Williams, whose administration as controller of the currency under President Wilson was marked by a bitter fight in the senate when he was appointed for his second term, died unexpectedly today at his home near Richmond. He was stricken with a heart attack and died shortly afterward.

Mr. Williams was distinguished as a banker, financier, and publicist. Identifying himself prominently with the establishment of the banking and currency system created under the new federal reserve system, Mr. Williams came into sharp conflict with various groups of bankers. The most notable fight was with the Riggs National bank of Washington. The issue was taken before congress. Criticisms he directed against New York banks also brought him into conflict with the American Bankers' association, and the senate banking committee reported against his reappointment, but it was confirmed after a two months' delay, and when he resigned, two days before the Democratic administration retired, President Wilson wrote that the committee had done him "gross injustice."

University of Illinois Expels Co-ed; "Out Late"

TURKS RUTHLESS AGAINST GREEKS, EX-ENVOY SAYS

Morgenthau Here; Seeks $120,000 for Relief.

Picturing a tragedy that makes insignificant the Biblical story of the Exodus, Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, last night left his audience of 1,000 American-Greeks wondering why the world had not prevented Turkey from driving out Greeks, Armenians, and Jews.

Mr. Morgenthau, whose latest and most important work was the settling in unclaimed Grecian lands of 1,250,000 refugees while he was chairman of the league of nations Greek refugee settlement commission, came to Chicago to urge this city's help in the Near East relief drive to be held December 5 to 12. He spoke last night at the Hotel Sherman under the auspices of the Greek Societies of Chicago and the Near East Relief. Both he and Dr. Nehemiah Boynton spoke yesterday afternoon at the Hotel La Salle.

Predicts Stronger Greece.

"But Greece today," Mr. Morgenthau said, "housing these 1,250,000 refugees, steadily is building itself into a nation economically strong. Despite the poor leadership of Gen. Condylis it will emerge from its great crisis, a nation more independent than ever before. These refugees are producing grain that heretofore had to be imported. A great percentage of them are the shrewd merchants who kept Turkey for so long a time within the borders of civilization. Greece successfully has absorbed a great horde of penniless, jobless immigrants."

Mr. Morgenthau described in detail the persecution of Greeks and Armenians in Turkey from 1914 until 1924, then detailed his experiences in obtaining loans from England and France to help establish the refugees in their new country. The loans from England, and the material and moral support given by the American Near East Relief, were credited by Mr. Morgenthau as saviors of the entire Greek nation.

Seeks $120,000 from Chicago.

Chicago's share in the nation wide Near East Relief campaign will be $120,000, with the state's quota set at $300,000. Greek societies here were asked last night to take an active lead in the campaign by others who spoke at the banquet, including George N. Spanton, Dr. S. D. Saph, past president of the Hellenic Professional Men's Clubs of Chicago and James Twiss, president of the Plato Hellenic College club.

160 ORPHANED BY DISASTER IN MICHIGAN MINE

Death List 51 in Collapse of Swamp Bottom.

Ishpeming, Mich., Nov. 4.—(AP)—The little settlement of North Lake, which grew around the development of the Barnes Hecker iron mine, eight miles from here, was robbed of nearly every man by the cave-in at the shaft yesterday which took 51 lives.

Today as the difficult work of attempting recovery of the dead proceeded there were only two men residents there to help. The others lay either in a morgue or in the workings where they were caught by the collapse of swamp land and the consequent flooding of the mine.

The disaster left 160 orphans. The community school closed today when only six of its thirty-two pupils came to classes.

Only seven bodies have been recovered so far. Fifty employees of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company perished as did William Hill, county mine inspector who was on a trip through the mine. About forty men are working to recover the bodies.

Only One Man Escaped.

Wilfred Wells, 25, the only man in the mine at the time of the cave-in to escape, told today how he climbed the 800-foot shaft ladders from the second level in ten minutes while ooze, dropped into the mine by the collapse of the swamp bottom, licked higher and higher at his feet.

A memorial service for the miners may be arranged, according to K. I. Sawyer, mayor of Ishpeming, who also declared "we are not forgetting the families of these brave men."

EDISON CO. GIRLS HOLD DANCE.

The annual dance and banquet of the girls of the Commonwealth Edison company was held last night in the Morrison hotel. Three hundred and fifty attended.

BOTH CASSIDYS SAY THEY HAD TO SHOOT SHEA

Self defense was the plea yesterday of John Cassidy, 54 years old, and his son, John Cassidy Jr., when they were arraigned in the Grand Crossing court on a charge of shooting and wounding William Shea, a sailor for the elder Cassidy's daughter, Mary.

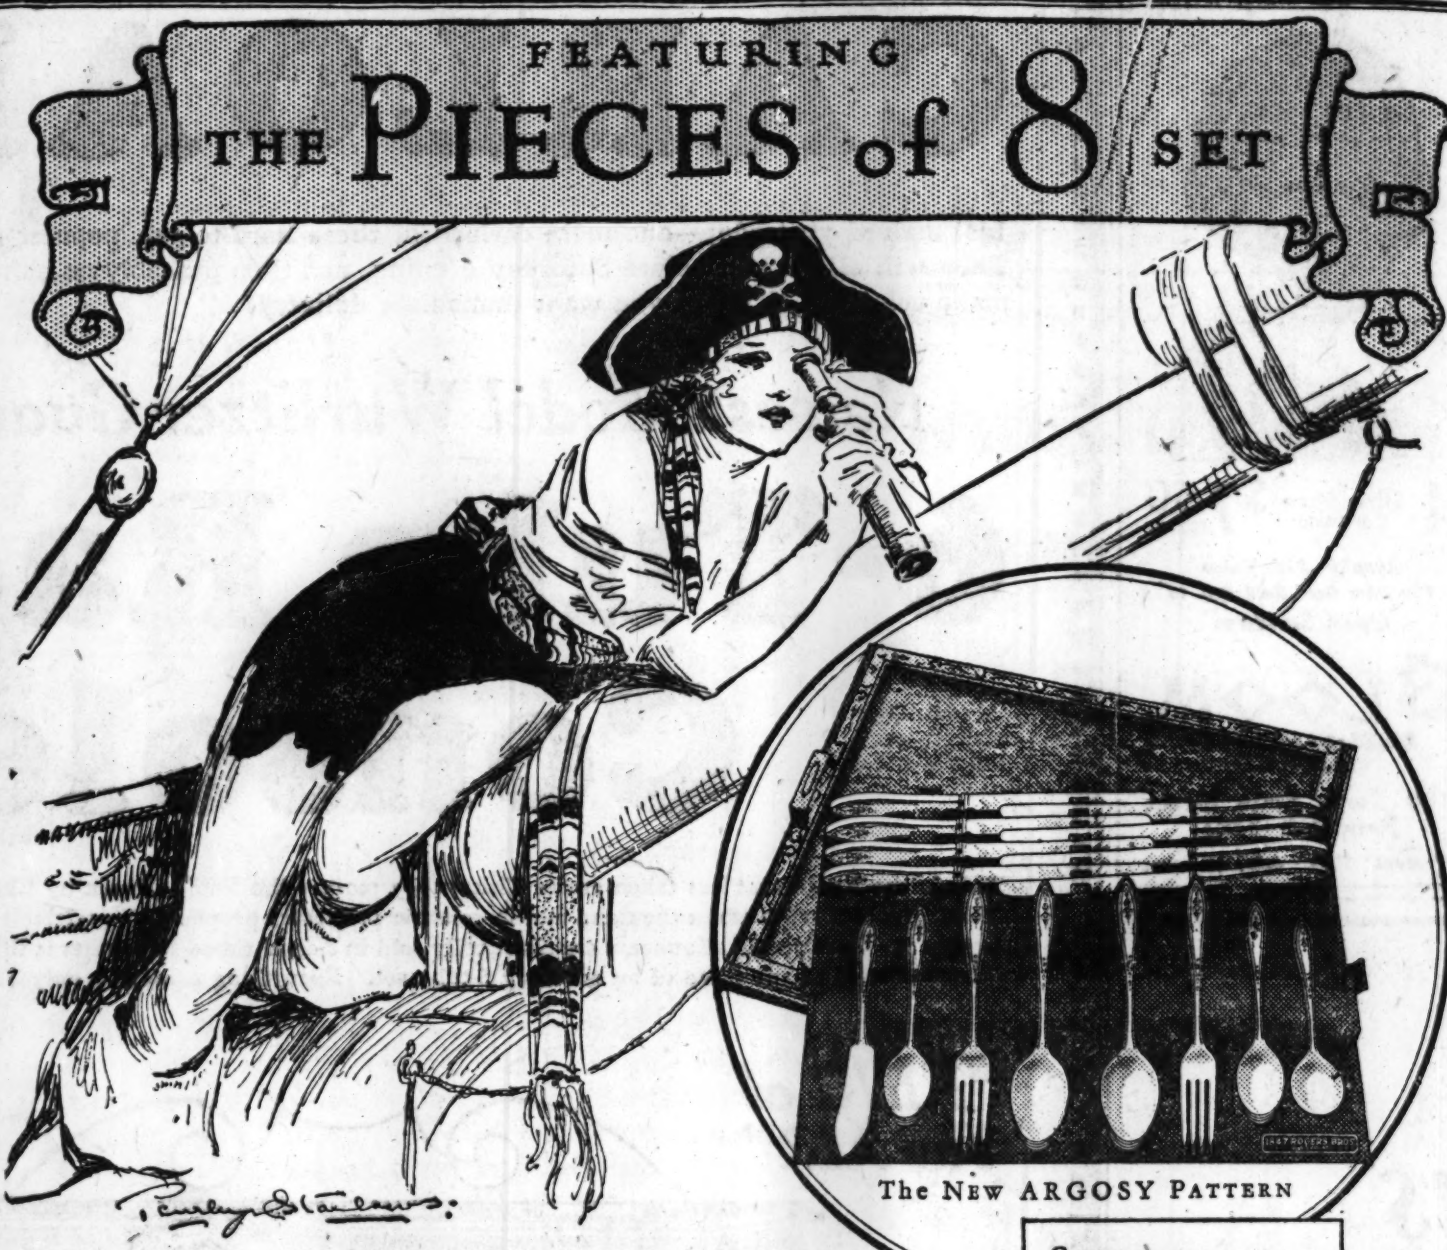

The Cassidy, who live at 7214 South Shore drive, asserted that Shea had a revolver with him when he went to call on Miss Cassidy on the evening of Oct. 2. This is denied by Shea and by Miss Cassidy, who is aiding her fiancé in the prosecution of her father and brother.

Bridget McCourt, employed in the Cassidy home, testified that when Shea arrived, John Cassidy Jr. shouted to his father: "Papa, get the gun. Here's Bill." The younger Cassidy maintained that what he said was, "Papa, it's Bill, and he's got a gun."

Judge Helander continued the case to Nov. 16.

BOB GAS STATION ATTENDANT.

Clifford Warr, 4811 Lake Park avenue, attendant in a gas station at Monroe street and Racine avenue, was robbed of $50 by two men yesterday.

She sailed and sailed...
The shopping seas.. seeking her
Silver Treasure.. and then at last—

She found it!

OF COURSE she wanted the right silver service. It was her first thought after the honeymoon cruise. But though she voyaged bravely from store to store, that "just right" set of her dreams persistently eluded her.

Sets of "sixes" were offered a-plenty. But one sometimes needs more than sixes.

And then, at last, she found it! The chest of her fondest quest. A selection of Eights! Not too many, not too few—but just right for normal table needs... with a spare or two for the guest in the offing.

Eight of each, in hollow handle dinner knives with stainless steel blades, dinner forks, tea spoons and dessert spoons... with a dainty sugar shell and a butter knife.

You'll share the thrill of a treasure-finder, too, when you see this happy-medium selection... The PIECES OF EIGHT set in 1847 ROGERS BROS. Silverplate... now being specially featured by all silverware merchants.

It's the "big-number" in THE SILVERWARE SHOW now holding sway at all silverware stores. And, with it, you may have the popular UTILITY SERVING TRAY... the silver held in a removable velvet pad, which, when taken out, leaves a dainty tray for serving teas and luncheons. The PIECES OF EIGHT Set and the tray... all for $44.50.

Specially featured November 1st to November 22nd
by all Silverware Merchants

THE NEW ARGOSY PATTERN

Each design is made not alone in spoons, forks and knives, but in the larger pieces as well—piece tea sets and the various articles that make up the dinner service and adorn the home.

LEAGUE MANDATE MISSION DEFIES COUNCIL ORDERS

Refuses to Be Bossed by Mandatory Powers.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) GENEVA, Nov. 4.—The mandate commission, which the league of nations council sought to "hamstring" last September in the assembly, struck back defiantly at its opening session this morning, declaring its independence of the council or mandatory powers who, according to President Marquis Theodoli, could not discharge members or give them instructions. Marquis Theodoli said the commission derived its powers directly from the league of nations covenant.

He said their own consciences were their only guides and, while the council could accept or reject their advice, there was "ample indication that certain mandate powers had reason to regret that they had not accepted the commission's advice in the past."

William Rappard, the Swiss member, made an effort to smooth over the disagreement.

Defies Powers. Marquis Theodoli remarked that if the powers preferred not to answer the commission's questionnaire regarding territories under their mandates then they would gather the same information through cross-examining the representatives sent to Geneva to appear before the commission. He pointed out that the Iraq administration already is overzealous to facilitate matters by requesting a more detailed questionnaire than was submitted.

The determined attitude adopted by the commission was a great surprise to the observers, who expected that the bitter accusations made by Sir Austin Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, and Foreign Minister Aristide Briand of France last September had taken all the fight out of the group and relegated them to the rôle of a rubber stamp.

Syrian Delegation Returns. The Syrians evidently have not given up hope of securing redress from the league. Husan el Djabri and Emir Chehab Ardan, with their colleagues, have reappeared on the scene. Robert Dewar, member of the Syrian high commission, is the representative for Syria, while Sir Henry Dobbs, high commissioner of Iraq, is appearing for the British.

The membership of the commission consists of Marquis Theodoli, council man; William Rappard of Switzerland; Friere d'Andrade of Portugal; Myhrer Van Rees of Holland; Mrs. Bugge Wickell of Sweden; Mr. Yamana of Japan; Sir Francis Lugard of Great Britain; Leopoldo Palacios of Spain; and Mr. Grimshaw, slavery expert of the international labor office.

GOV. SMALL CALLS ON PEOPLE TO HONOR WAR DEAD ARMISTICE DAY

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4.—(AP)—A proclamation, calling upon the people of Illinois to observe Armistice day with two minutes of silence, at 11 o'clock in the morning, was issued by Gov. Small today.

"Face the east for two minutes in a silent tribute to the dead of the world war," the governor wrote. "As an additional celebration," he added, "the disabled American veterans of Chicago have arranged for a forget-me-not drive on Nov. 11. This movement is a local brotherly movement in the interest of their friends and comrades, to give assistance in obtaining those things to which the unfortunate soldiers of the war may be entitled, and to provide emergency relief for them and their dependents."

"It is conceived in a fine spirit of service, and I trust that the friends and neighbors of the veterans will not fail them now, as they have never failed them in the past."

'THEY DUPED ME,' COOPER SAYS, ON WAY TO KEWANEE

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 4.—Penniless and worried over his deserted family, John Cooper, Kewanee iron worker who claimed he would inherit $9,000,000, is burning his way through Texas, he said in a letter to a newspaper man here. He holds to his story that he was led by his father and brother to believe that he would receive the fortune and assets he was duped. He said he was on his way to the coast to revenge himself on his brother, Earl.

Cooper left his wife and babies in Kewanee two months ago after making extensive preparations to claim the fortune which never came.

Louise Vanderbilt Leaves $300,000 for Girls' Home

New York, Nov. 4.—(Special).—Disposing of a fortune in jewelry and legacies to relatives and friends, and providing for a $300,000 trust fund to maintain the Anthony home which she founded for working girls, the will of Mrs. Louise H. Vanderbilt, wife of Frederick K. Vanderbilt, was filed for probate today. The value of the estate was not disclosed, but upwards of $500,000 in specific bequests are disposed of. It is estimated the value of the entire estate is more than a million dollars.

Patrick Loftus, Policeman, Killed by Fall in Home

Policeman Patrick Loftus, 65, attached to the Town Hall station, fell in his home yesterday and fractured his skull. He died shortly afterwards. He had been convalescing from a recent operation. He is survived by two brothers, Police Lieut. John Loftus and Sgt. Thomas Loftus.

STEAL UNIVERSITY ALCOHOL. Six 50 gallon drums of pure grain alcohol were stolen from the warehouse of the University of Illinois research department, 1017 West Erie street, yesterday.

BEARDED 'VENUS' BATHES IN WINE AS HIJACKERS SIP

Shots from Coast Guard Halt Party on Ship.

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A tale of a champagne bath tub party on a rum runner on the high seas in which a grizzled hijacker played the part of a bath tub girl was revealed today in the dry, legal phraseology of two indictments returned in federal court.

The rum runner was the Elmsa, formerly a lighthouse tender, which sailed from Boston last May to engage in the liquor trade. She was seized by hijackers among the crew and the bath tub party was to seal a bond of fellowship between the opposing factions.

While the party was at its height, however, the coast guard destroyer The Manning, came upon the ship off Cape Hatteras, and after firing several shots halted the rum vessel.

A boarding party, fully armed, was sent to take possession. When the guardsmen stepped on board the captured vessel they were startled to find, grouped about the captain's bath tub, the combined crews with dippers in hand imbibing champagne while a grizzled and bearded hijacker wearing a woman's blonde wig was seated in the tub.

The inspiration for the bath tub party, they explained to the coast guard officers, was obtained from radio accounts of the grand jury investigation of Earl Carroll's bath tub party on the stage of a New York theater.

Two indictments were returned. One charges conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition act, and conspiracy to violate the tariff act by illegally importing liquor.

The second charges conspiracy to violate the prohibition act and also conspiracy to commit piracy on the high seas.

TAILOR IS FOUND HANGED

The body of Morris Freedman, a tailor, 38 years old, 1110 South Central Park avenue, was found hanging from a tree yesterday three miles from Michigan City, Ind. Freedman, according to his family, had been suffering from a nervous breakdown. He had recently been released from Evanston State hospital.

CONQUER CONSTIPATION EASILY

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN relieves constipation because it is 100% BRAN

Mr. McEnery tried part-bran substitutes—but only ALL-BRAN brought complete relief. Here's what he says:

"For fifteen years I was constantly bothered with constipation. About two years ago I tried out mixed bran and corn flakes, but did not get much relief. Some eighteen months ago I began using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. From the first week to this good day I have never had to take a dose of any laxative medicine of any description."

Constitution is the enemy of health. The cause of more than forty diseases! Don't let this insidious trouble send its poisons through your body. Pimples, spots before the eyes, indigestion and headaches—are warning signs.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation, or your money is refunded. Delicious with milk, fruit or with other cereals. Fine in cooking.

THE first thing we would like to have you know about this great sale is that every garment is new. There isn't a "holdover" in the entire stock. When we took our great purchasing power into the heart of the clothing market we made sure that every suit we bought was wool through and through for wear and cut strictly over 1926 patterns for style.

As a matter of fact these garments cost the manufacturer more than our price, but the loss is theirs—not ours—and the gain is yours. Just take a look at them in our windows. Early shopping today or tomorrow is advisable.

WAR LORDS RUIN CHINA, STRAWN'S TRADE WARNING

Defends Whites Accused by Oriental Politicians.

China's complaints against the world powers—as those complaints have been given to the world—are not based on facts but on the false claims of Chinese politicians, Silas H. Strawn last night at the Blackstone hotel told a joint meeting of the Commercial and Industrial clubs of Chicago.

He added that all the troubles of that vast empire of four hundred millions are on the shoulders of her war lords who ride ruthlessly over their native land, exacting tremendous tolls for their military operations ruining the enterprise of both native and foreign capital, throwing all chances of progress and stability to the four winds.

Gives Commercial Outlook.

Of the chances of the United States or any other foreign nation to maintain trade in China, the Chicago attorney who went there as American delegate to international conferences on customs tariff and on extra-territorial jurisdiction, had this to say to the Chicago leaders of commerce and industry and to all such leaders in the country:

"Obviously, our trade, as well as that of other nations, with China, cannot be increased or even maintained on its present basis until there is peace, so that the frugal, industrious and patient Chinese people may enjoy the fruits of their labor rather than be continuously robbed by bandits and soldiers."

Mr. Strawn told the business leaders how the empire has been split up by the war lords. He said the outcry of Chinese politicians against the foreign inspector general of customs is baseless inasmuch as this control is the only anchor which keeps China from absolute financial chaos.

"For Humanity's Sake."

"Foreign concessions had their origin in a desire of the Chinese to segregate the foreigners from the Chinese people," he said.

These territories, when given into the hands of the foreigners, were poor, swampy lands, he said, and they have now grown to be the "most attractive spots in China." So now the greedy ones and the politicians want them back.

"They claim," Mr. Strawn continued, "a wicked Chinese may run in there to escape the authorities. Well, perhaps a foreign power might refuse to surrender a Chinese citizen who had been unfortunate enough merely to differ from his political pursuer—refuse for humanity's sake, refusing to be perpetrate criminals to the inevitable fate which would befall such a Chinese citizen."

Finally he took up the claims that foreign powers furnish the Chinese with arms and ammunition, and that thereby the war lords are able to carry on their useless wars. He asserted it is not true.

"The powers," he concluded, "are living up to their agreements of May, 1919, not to do it. But in 1925 Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang made an agreement with agents of Moscow to import large supplies of munitions by motor truck from Siberia. I was advised that when importations are attempted they are seized by the customs and considered as contraband, and that thereupon the dominant war lord seizes the shipment for his use."

"Thus it may be that the Chinese people are powerless to prevent the importation of arms and the seizure thereof by the war lords, but this is a situation which should not be charged to foreign powers."

Aurora Distillery Seized by Chicago Dry Agents

Chicago prohibition agents yesterday raided a building in the rear of a laundry at 612 Chain street, Aurora, and seized a complete distilling plant. Included in the equipment were two 300 gallon stills, six 500 gallon vats, two 1,500 gallon vats, and sixty gallons of moonshine. All the vats were filled with mash.

WORKER KILLED BY ELEVATOR

Michael Minick, 34 years old, 1125 South Wood street, was killed yesterday when crushed by an elevator while working in the shaft of the Commonwealth Edison company's building at 3501 South Crawford avenue.

LEADER IN FIGHT AGAINST LEPROSY VISITS CHICAGO

W. M. Danner, sponsor of hospitals for treatment of leprosy throughout the world, passed through Chicago last night, but paused long enough to assure Chicagoans that they are never in any danger of the scourge of Biblical fame. Bucking a strenuous climate builds up resistance to leprosy, he said.

Oriental, because they are poorly fed, catch the disease, he said. Most of the two or three million lepers in the world are Asiatics, but inadequate provision is made for them. It is Mr. Danner's purpose to interest churches and governments in establishing colonies.

Due to the rediscovery some eight years ago of chaulmoogra oil and the acid from the hydnocarpus seed as effective treatments, Mr. Danner believes that leprosy can be entirely wiped out within three generations. These two cures, he said, were known in 150 B. C., but their secret was subsequently lost. Dr. Victor G. Heiser of New York is given credit with being the twentieth century discoverer of the remedies.

ENGINEER HELD HERE ON WIFE'S BIGAMY CHARGE

Thomas U. White, 35 years old, an electrical engineer of Genoa, Ill., was arrested there yesterday on a charge of bigamy brought by his first wife, Mrs. Mabel E. Evans White. Last night he was brought to Chicago by Sergt. Weber and Phelan.

The couple, according to Mrs. White, were married eighteen years ago. Three children were born to them, the eldest of whom is now 14 and the youngest 10. Mrs. White asserted she was given a separation allowance of $50 a week, but not a divorce, in Pittsburgh several years ago.

"I learned seven months ago that he was married," she said. "His new wife is Lois Waters of Pittsburgh. He hasn't paid me any money for years. I've been living in New York and trying to support my children while he's been living with her."

We had not previously been acquainted with the advertising expert who says there are "seven doors to a man's mind," but we infer he is the author of "Seven Keys to Baldpate."—Boston Transcript.

Ours was not the Advertising Expert in question—but we admit Rogers Peet use at least seven keys to gain a favorable impression of our clothes in a man's mind.

- They are:
1. Delightful style.
 2. Variety of patterns and models.
 3. All-wool and color-fast fabrics.
 4. Finest workmanship.
 5. Correct fit.
 6. Quick service.
 7. Reasonable prices.

These should not only make a favorable impression on a man's mind, but on his back as well.

THREE INDIANA TEAMS EMBARK FOR NOTRE DAME

Season's Reverses Fail to Daunt Hoosiers.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Coach Pat Fage and three complete Indiana football teams left tonight for South Bend where the Crimson battles Notre Dame Saturday. The squad was scheduled to stay at Elmhurst, this evening and go on to Notre Dame tomorrow. Fage will send his men through a light practice session on Cartier field tomorrow morning.

The entire squad is in good shape with the exception of one or two men suffering with bruises received in practice. Louis Briner, veteran lineman, made the trip but may not be able to stay in the game long, due to injuries. Players making the trip were Randolph, Hill, Fullam, Fisher, Bishop, Sibley, Nease, Garrison, Byers, Beckner, Moss, Bennett, Briner, Hull, Hollman, Butts, Matthews, Catterton, Winston, Smith, Harrell, Weaver, Gastineau, Buckner, Wojtech, Tobin, Stephenson, Malloy, Hiller, Johnson, Bucher, Baker, and Holdeman.

N. D. POLISHES DEFENSE

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Preparations for the Indiana game Saturday were eased up here this afternoon with the team contenting themselves with scrimmages against some of formations, that Pat Fage's proteges possess.

The probable Notre Dame starting lineup consists of Wallace, Voedisch at ends; McManis and Miller at tackles; Mayer and Marrell at guards; Boeringer at center; Riley at quarter; Capt. Red Hearden and Chris Flanagan at halves and Elmer Wynne at full back.

It sounds like the reopening of the old cheering rivalry that used to exist between these two institutions, for the Indiana eleven is being accompanied by their band and a large delegation of students and old grads.

GOPHERS LEAVE

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—A new spirit was aflame on the University of Minnesota campus tonight as the Gopher football squad departed for its invasion of Iowa City with the cheers of 4,000 students behind them. The morale of the squad was high as Dr. Spears ran his three full teams through a long signal practice and then closed the afternoon with a dummy scrimmage against Iowa pass plays.

The team will work out on the Hawkeye field and then return to Cedar Rapids to make their headquarters.

HAWKS POLISH PLAYS

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Kicking, passing and a short drill on the plays which Coach Burton Ingwersen has been giving the team this week, completed Iowa's preparation for Minnesota tonight.

Byers was back at quarter back, Schmidt at full back, and Armil, who has been showing well as a line punter, was at right half. In the punting drill, Kutch made 45 yard kicks with the reserves hurrying him.

LOYOLA ON WAY TO HASKELL TILT

Loyola university's grid team left last night for Kansas City to battle Haskell Indians of Lawrence, Kas., tomorrow. Coach Roger Kiley took 25 men with him.

Tom Stidham, giant Haskell tackle and captain will not play tomorrow because of the death of his father. He weighed 250 pounds, and is 6 feet 7 inches in height, and has been the mainstay of the Indians' line.

The Loyola squad will arrive in Kansas City this morning and practice at Muehlbach park there this afternoon.

SMITTY—THE WORLD IS MINE

24 Named for Pimlico's Rich Futurity Today

Pimlico Race Track, Md., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The picturesque Pimlico race course will be the scene tomorrow of the seventh running of the $40,000 Futurity stakes. The greatest juvenile classic of the late autumn season closed with a total of 1,623 nominations, of which 204 became void.

Of the remainder 24 were named in the overnight entry and a big field is certain to go to the post unless there is an unexpected change in weather and track conditions. The race is at a mile.

Many of the leading stables of the country are represented, although the Belmont Park Futurity winner, Walter M. Jeffords' Scape Flow, is among the missing. Harry Payne Whitney holds a tremendously strong hand with Valorous, winner of the Kentucky Jockey club stakes; Whiskery, Maid of the Mist, and Bostonian.

Lord Chaucer to Start. Another formidable candidate for the rich stake is the Sagamore stable's Lord Chaucer, winner of the Hopeful Stakes at Saratoga, which will have as a running mate Gold Coin. The Greenlee stable of Mrs. Payne Whitney will have its colors up on Saxon and Adios.

Other good ones that are named are the Foxcatcher farm's Fair Star, winner of the first running of the Selma stakes; E. B. McLean's Jock, Sport Trail, and War Eagle; the Idle Hour farm stable's Bewithus, and Buddy Bauer.

Expect Much Crowding. With such a large field there is every likelihood of crowding and interference and much will depend upon how the stars among the juveniles get away at the start.

There is every indication for a fast track. Given fair weather, it is expected a record crowd will turn out for Futurity day. The Harry Payne Whitney entry will likely be the post time favorite.

TIGERS, HARVARD READY FOR BIG THREE OPENER

Horween's Team May Hold Slight Edge.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New York, Nov. 4.—The Princeton and Harvard football teams will start the annual round robin tournament of the so-called Big Three Saturday afternoon with a game in Harvard's warped and confidential circus, the first of three games in this very exclusive rivalry to determine, at a rough estimate, nothing.

The exclusive rivalry between Princeton, Harvard, and Yale this year corresponds roughly to a round robin tournament in the ring between Italian Jack Herman, George Godfrey, and Farmer Lodge. In other words, the boys may hurt one another about in a very interesting manner, but the result is not likely to have any bearing on the championship, as all parties to the affair have been hurried about before and by more or less vulgar outsiders, at that.

These Vulgar Outsiders.

The vulgarity of the outsiders varies, of course, according to the distance they have come to the eastern seaboard and other considerations too controversial to be stated just now. Geneva college, which went up to Harvard as an opponent, not a rival, a few weeks ago and smacked Arnold Horween's team in the first game under the Horween system of coaching, is considered more vulgar than the Army, which smacked Yale last week. But still, being a mere opponent and not a rival in the Big Three understanding of things, the Army is an outsider of undetermined vulgarity.

This is not such a hardship on the Army as one might suspect. The Harvard promises will be consoled with students and alumni, of course, but this does not mean the same thing that you would mean if you said the stadium at the University of Illinois or the one at the University of Ohio would be consoled. It does not take many students and alumni to congest the Harvard stadium.

Harvard Full of Fight.

Harvard has won only one game from Princeton since the war, but this week discovers the Harvard team breathing in sports and obsessed by the same aggressive idea that sometimes makes a gentleman rise up in a team to remark: "Is there any gentleman in the team who would like to be fought by me?"

Horween went to the sophomores for replacements when he took charge and after his team had been bled by Geneva and Holy Cross he began to get across the idea of aggressive football.

Two weeks ago Harvard beat Dartmouth and last week the huge score rolled his people rolled up against Tufts was a further symptom of the revival of confidence at Cambridge.

Harvard is attacking now, and here comes a Princeton team that only tied Washington and Lee, lost to the Navy, and beat Lehigh by the margin of a single point after a touchdown.

Here in the east you may detect an occasional note of something akin to pleasure in the newspaper comments on the defeats that befell Harvard, Princeton, and Yale. This is due to the fact that Harvard, Princeton, and Yale will not cover their press stands.

The Delicate Journalists.

The journalists state that they are no more delicate than the young women who go to football games and sit out among the weather wearing invisible stockings and tissue paper shoes, but they make the point that the young woman who goes to these games don't have to go to eight or a dozen games every season and, furthermore, don't have to compose high-power literature about the gathering shadows, the surge of the blue avalanche, and kindred stock phenomena with snowdrifts gathering on their typewriters.

Meyers Beats Parelli Two of Three Falls

Johnny Meyers, world's middleweight wrestling champion, successfully defended his title against Joe Parelli, the Italian, at the Broadway armory last night. Meyers won two of three falls.

The champion took the first fall in 36:45 with a double wrist lock and hammer lock. Parelli's shoulders were not pinned, but he conceded the fall after Meyers had his arm in a position to break it. Joe Parelli came back and took the second fall in 12:24 with a reverse body scissors preceded by two flying mares.

Wins in Hurry.
In the third and deciding fall, Meyers made short work of the challenger. Parelli started to rough it and the pair flopped each other to the mat with leg holds and headlocks. Parelli attempted a flying mare and Meyers clamped on a full nelson. He gradually forced the Italian to the mat and then switched his hold to a half nelson and wrist lock.

Parelli tried to squirm loose but Referee Thiry patted Meyers on the back after 3:35 of wrestling.

Hadjick Beats Sperling.
Tony Hadjick won over Jack Sperling in the one fall semi-windup. Tony secured a toe hold after 15:25 of wrestling and Sperling conceded the fall. Johnny Doak took the one fall opener from Adolph Fidor in 18:57 with a reverse body scissors and Jimmy Logan won from Tommy Cannon in 14:40 with a head scissors and wrist lock.

TY COBB.
If Tyrus Raymond Cobb retires from baseball not only as manager but also as player to devote his attention to the $1,000,000 he is reputed to have accumulated from his baseball earnings, shrewd investments in General Motors, Coca Cola, other stocks and real estate, he retires as the greatest player of all time—rated on a composite of batting, base running and fielding.

There have been great figures in the past who perhaps excelled Ty in some department for one or more years, and there is Babe Ruth whose home run clouts have attracted more publicity than ever given any ball player before, but for sustained effort in all branches over a period of 21 years, the Georgian is entitled to the palm.

Cobb leaves behind him many records in baseball, some of which may later be eclipsed, but he has set one mark for leading his league batting which it will be difficult ever to equal. Ty topped all averages of the Ban Johnson circuit for nine successive seasons from 1907 to 1915, was displaced by Tris Speaker for one year, and then added three more. Thus he led his league in twelve of thirteen years.

Hans Wagner of Pittsburgh in the National league was premier bludgeoner eight times in the period from 1900 to 1911. Rogers Hornsby, concerning whom it is now popular to say "pleasant things, hand the honor place for six consecutive years from 1920 to 1925. (Official averages for 1925 have not been released.)

Cobb, spectacular as a player, was not successful as a manager for which combined service he received from Detroit a salary of $40,000 per year. Ty thinks he will retire. Many others have thought so and the lure of the game has brought them back, usually to disappointment. Cobb the player, however, has made a name which will outlast all memory of his plodding woes.

Coast Eleven Set to Bump Bulls Sunday

When George Wilson and his Wildcat grid team take the field Sunday at Sox park against the Chicago Bulls, it will be the third invasion of a Pacific coast eleven to the city this year. And Wilson's team may do to the Chicago American league entry what Erik Muller and Ernie Nevers failed to accomplish against the Cardinals and the Bears.

The Wildcats are all graduates of far west gridirons, and though Wilson is rated the big star, the entire back field is well balanced and worthy foes for Joe Sternaman's rejuvenated Bulls. Rabbit Bradshaw, at quarter, who has even less stature than Jole himself, excels at running back punts. While a member of the Nevada university eleven in 1922 he gained more yards from scrimmage than any player on the coast that season.

Bears Hope to Increase Lead.
Wilson's club has won four games and lost a like number. The Bulls also boast a 4-0 average, and the winner Sunday has a fighting chance of smashing through the American league leaders to gain top honors.

The Chicago Bears, although they expect to maintain first place in the National league race at the expense of the Louisville Colonels, managed by Bill Harley, are casting apprehensive glances at the back field roster of the invaders. In addition to Pete Stinchcomb, Ohio State All-American half back and running mate of Chick Harley, the Colonels have Chuck Palmer.

of Northwestern, Glaver of Georgia Tech and Gelson and Metzger of Georgetown university.

Check Palmer at Quarter.
Palmer, who coaches Englewood high school, directs the team play from quarter. Len Sachs, coach of Loyola academy, now leading the Catholic prep circuit, trains the Harley outfit, and it would be a queer twist of fate if these Chicago players could do what the best of the invading teams of the league have failed to do—threaten Driscoll, Benn and their supporting coterie.

The Chicago Cardinals left early this morning for Philadelphia where they meet the Frankford Yellowjackets tomorrow afternoon before journeying to Gotham for a tilt with the Giants on Sunday.

Brooklyn Grants Fournier's Plea for His Release

New York, Nov. 4.—(U. N.)—Jacques Fournier, veteran infielder and captain of the Brooklyn Robins last season, today received his unconditional release from that club at his own request.

Several days ago Fournier, who now is at his home in St. Louis, asked for his release on the grounds that he had been offered an opportunity to manage another team. Waivers then were asked on his services and the other 15 Major league clubs refused to claim him. The release followed today.

Confidence

We never claim that only Fidelity Bonds are good. In fact, no other security has such a record for safety, plus yield as First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds.

But the Fidelity Bond and Mortgage Company does not rest on its laurels. VIVID PICTURE OF TODAY IS PAINTED IN DRY FIGURES

BY HARPER LEECH.

Closely scanned the prosy totals of our biennial manufacturing censuses will nearly all the beams of modern life. They are of the stuff from which history is spun. Modern man is so busy with the adult toys prepared for him in the shops, that the tale of their output is eloquent.

A motor manufacturer said the other day that the sales organizations of his unique industry are primarily purchasing agents for old automobiles. Such is the extent of substitution in modern trade. Well, what has made this the case? The answer is simple. The value of the products of the whole industry from 1922 to 1925 was only 2.5 per cent, the decrease for planes being nine per cent.

Probably the crust of "jams" and "blues" has passed. A small decrease is noted in the value of the output of instruments of percussion—chimes, drums, bells, traps, and xylophones.

This writer had the luck of hearing the first "blues" ever to attain orchestration—although as folk singing it was old stuff. A highbrow art book recently published gives the story correctly in the main. The first "blues" to sweep American dance halls was the result of the horrors of municipal economy—for campaign purposes, of course. A "blues" candidate for mayor of Memphis ordered all improvised seats removed from city dump carts, thereby thinking to lessen the leisure of black men and brown mulattoes, also to get some of "blues" votes. Actually he changed dance steps from Shanghai to London, as the world caught up the indignation of the "easy riders."

Notable in the musical instrument figures is the increase in production of baby grand types of pianos, some plain, some with player attachment. The greater popularity of dancing parties in apartments is evident. One doubts whether the increased manufacture of pipe organs reflects the building of more magnificent churches or movie houses or both. The decline of production of reed organs may be a reflex of the conditions of the rural church—abandonments and consolidations.

The American male is becoming less attached to the unattached shirt collar—the fashion of shirts with colored collars to match may account for a decline of 30 per cent in two years in the value of collars manufactured. But, as previously noted here, thanks to the ladies, the laundry lists for men never before. Seven per cent of all suspender and garter factories gave up the ghost between 1922 and 1925, despite all Clarence Farrow and Richard Henry Little could do for galluses. Yet the value of the output of those remaining gained by 13.2 per cent, so their work may have been helpful to the big shops after all.

"Either the 'joining habit' is on the decline or the greater colorfulness of costumes in general has abated the hunger for regalia.

The value of regalia, badges, emblems, etc., declined 9.1 per cent from 1922 to 1925.

SOUTH SELLS COTTON

Southern baling sales appear on all rails in cotton, and prices averaged lower, with the final here showing net losses of 7812 points, with New York off 7811 points, and New Orleans 5810 points lower. Expectation that the Government report on Nov. 8 will be bearish induced some selling. Private reports indicated yields of 37,000,000 to 37,500,000 bales, compared with the last Government figure of 37,450,000 bales. There was some trade buying on the decline, but sentiment generally was bearish, with some traders looking for the Government figure to show more than 37,000,000 bales. So far nine state financing organizations with a capital of $16,000,000 have been formed, which, it is estimated, will take care of 4,000,000 bales. Spot cotton at Houston closed at 12.35; Galveston, 12.35; New Orleans, 12.30; and New York, 12.65. Prices follow:

ENGRAVING FIRM PLANS PLANT TO COST $500,000

BY AL CHASE.

Henry Mawick, president of the Pontiac Engraving & Electrotype company, has bought the northeast corner of Van Buren and Green streets, $6126, and has started work on a $500,000 six story reinforced concrete building to cover the entire lot.

E. Russell is the architect and Holton, Seelye & Co. are the general contractors. The building is designed especially to meet the requirements of the printing and graphic arts industries. The Pontiac Engraving and Electrotype company, located for the last ten years at 727 South Dearborn street, is one of the oldest firms of its kind in the city. It is the outgrowth of the firm of Hallock & Chandler, wood engravers of 1873.

Part of Building Rented.
The Pontiac concern will occupy most of the space in the new building. Part of the structure will be occupied by the Slopeck-Holman Printing company.

Joseph Boyle was broker in the purchase of the site. Alexander J. Hess was attorney for Mr. Mawick. The new building is expected to be completed by April 1, 1927.

Lakewood-Bryn Mawr Deal.
A. M. De Carlo has purchased the thirty-nine apartments at the southwest corner of Lakewood and Bryn Mawr, lot 59123, from Albert Reinhardt for an undisclosed consideration, subject to a mortgage of $100,732, assumed by the buyer.

Frederick E. Hummel & Co. have erected and sold to the L. Anderson Tool and Die company the one story factory building, on a 32x125 lot, at the northwest corner of Albany avenue and West Ohio street for a reported $55,000.

James J. Henry has taken title to forty-five acres in Roselle, fronting on Irving Park boulevard, State street, and Devon avenue, and will subdivide. Fred A. Rathje and Eli G. Inman were brokers.

BLACK BUTTERFLIES

By ELIZABETH JORDAN

SYNOPSIS

Dorinda Maxwell, the wealthiest young woman in Graceland, brings upon herself the wrath of the town by her association with the Black Butterflies, a club made up of the outcasts. Her attorney, Orson Hatch, remonstrates with her and advises her to take up as a chaperone. Dorinda tells him that she will not give up the freedom that was hers during her father's lifetime. Hatch sends David Goddard, his clerk, out to Dorinda's home with some papers to require her signature, and the heiress is impressed with the young law student. Dorinda is worried by the gossip about herself and calls on Norma Davis, an old friend, with the hope of keeping their friendship alive. Norma tells Dorinda that her father, John Davis, objects to their friendship. She asks Dorinda why she doesn't marry and Hatch gives her the same answer she gave to her attorney. Later Dorinda telephones to Goddard and asks him to call at her home that night. She asks him to marry her, the arrangement to be strictly a matter of business. He returns at five, but later he tells her he'll do it. They are married quietly on the Saturday following New Year's and go off on a pseudo honeymoon in Dorinda's roadster. Dorinda insists on starting back to Graceland in a storm and quarrels with David when he suggests they wait until the roads are in better condition. They start out, each feeling slightly angry toward the other. Dorinda, driving, crashes into another machine and remains in a hospital. The Butterflies, hearing of the accident, come to visit her. They all go back to Graceland together. Before leaving the hospital David tells Dorinda that they've got to have a new deal or get a divorce. Dorinda asks for a month's truce and David agrees.

INSTALLMENT XIII.

A JOLT FOR DAVID.

Kimball surprised David by taking him out to lunch. He was glad to go, glad to listen to "shop talk," gladdest of all that he had told Dorinda, during his brief pause at her bedside after breakfast, that he would make a practice of lunching downtown on week days. He couldn't go back to that house at home, and yet, oddly, he wanted to go. He was haunted by the look on Dorinda's face, by the expression in her eyes when she had asked for the month's truce, and by the memory of the hand she had suddenly slipped into his, undoubtedly to impress Miss Allen, when he was leaving. "I'm coming down to dinner tonight," she told him. "Miss Allen thinks I can. And I'll ask Doctor Warren to stay if he comes in about six, which seems to be his favorite hour."

David was relieved. Evidently she was no more anxious than he for a life-à-la-carte.

He went home at six, very tired. His arm had been an increasing nuisance, which surprised him. He had accepted the constant pain of the first few days as inevitable, but he had expected improvement before this. He passed his door and went on to the second door of Dorinda's sitting room, which, like his own, opened from the hall. The nurse greeted him with a sad face.

"I'm dressing Mrs. Goddard for dinner," she explained, stepping back from the threshold, "but I suppose—"

"No, no. I'll come in after I'm dressed and help her downstairs," David said, and hurried away before she could reply. That incident certainly had changed things up for them in every way, and not the least of its irritating

"This is going to knock me out again, isn't it?" he asked at last. Dorinda was that it had placed them in such difficult positions under so many strange eyes. The voice of the nurse followed him along the hall. He returned.

"Mrs. Goddard says to tell you that Dr. Warren is coming to dinner, and Doctor Warren mentioned when he was leaving this morning that he would get here about half past six and examine your arm."

"Thanks," David swung back to his own quarters, where Annie had evidently preceded him. Lights and fire were lit, and as the last detail of the pleasing picture of a deaconess on the smoking table held Scotch whisky, a syphon of soda, and Mighall glasses. David mixed himself a modest drink, and, raising his glass, solemnly pledged Annie. He must tell her not to do that again, but tonight he needed a highball. The broken arm was throbbing like an ulcerated tooth and the continued pain was putting his nerves on edge. He was glad Warren was coming in to look at the thing.

The drink comforted him and he went for Johnny and made his toilet, but with increasing difficulty. Odd how much worse the arm had got during the day, he reflected after the boy had gone. Probably it had been hurt by his unconscious movements when he forgot the injury in his absorption in work. No doubt it would be all right in the morning. But Doctor Warren, buoyantly entering thirty minutes later in the impressive formality of evening clothes, soon belated this fair hope. His examination, at first perfunctory and plainly based on the theory that nature was effectually looking after the work, took on a seriousness that clouded the cheerful expectancy of a hungry man now within fifteen minutes of a good meal.

"Tell me, Goddard," he asked abruptly when the patient had answered a few questions, "didn't they take an X-ray of this arm at Adneyport?"

"No, they decided that was not necessary—that it was a case of clean fracture, without complications."

"If they're not wrong I'll eat these splints!" Warren's tone showed that he was divided between sympathy for his patient and the pleasant excitement of a physician who has caught other doctors napping. "I'm awfully sorry, old chap, but I think this arm will have to be broken again. I'll telephone Wheeler and arrange to have an X-ray taken right after dinner. I'll make him develop it tonight, and if it shows what I think it will we'll up the whole job early tomorrow morning."

"Break the arm again, you mean?" David demanded with natural reluctance.

"Yes. There's a nasty look about it and I don't want to take any chances. When did you eat last?"

"About one o'clock."

"You can't have another mouthful. You'll probably have to take ether about eight in the morning. You may come to the table, though, and watch me eat, if you're altruistic enough to enjoy that. I used to dine here once in while in the old man's day—I was his doctor, you know—and I hear the cooking hasn't fallen off any."

Warren was not as unfeeling as he sounded. He was merely giving the patient time to collect himself after the jolt he had received. David spoke from a parched throat. More bad luck. There seemed no end to his bad luck.

"This is going to knock me out again, isn't it?" he asked, at last.

"Not long only for a few days or a week. After that you can get around as you're doing now, till the bone knits, which it ought to do in about three weeks. In the meantime, it will give you a good excuse to stay at home week and keep your wife company," the doctor grinned. As this prospect did not appear to cheer the patient, he offered further solace.

"I see you have some whisky here," he said, picking up the decanter. "You can have a small drink, if you like."

"Thanks. I had one when I came in. Help yourself."

"I bet you needed it," Warren suggested, as he accepted the invitation. "That arm must be hurting like the devil." He set down his empty glass. "Isn't that the dinner song? All right, let's go in and help Mrs. Goddard downstairs. I'll do the work and you can furnish the moral uplift. I'm not sure she ought to be up, but she's getting pretty restless and the change will help."

"Hold on," David caught the physician's arm as the latter started for the door. "Don't tell my wife anything about this arm till after dinner, will you?"

Warren nodded.

"I suppose that's best. But won't she notice that you're not eating?"

"I'll explain that I had a big lunch. It happens to be true. Kimball burst out today," David explained. But their elaborate unconsciousness aroused Dorinda's suspicions.

"What have you two been doing in there all this time?" she demanded. "Having a drink and letting Warren do his daily down on my arm?" David told her. "He seemed to think it was a horizontal bar."

He walked to where she stood, near the door, supported by the nurse, and, looking lightly kissed her cheek.

"Have you had a good day?" he asked, sympathetically.

"Yes."

As she spoke Dorinda turned her face away, but not until he had seen the look of color that flooded it even through the remaining congestion. His black eyebrows lifted above his blue eyes. He was sorry he had annoyed her, but she had to put up with some sort of a bluff before these outsiders. She was looking stunning in the same gown she had worn at the Christmas party. He admired it at the time and had told her so. Tonight nothing mattered except that infernal pain in his arm, which was steadily growing worse. With the nurse on one side of her and the doctor on the other, Dorinda slowly descended the wide staircase and David followed in silence.

A little sensitive, the nurse and doctor decided—and quite naturally so—over his inability to help her himself.

GASOLINE ALLEY—IT'S ALL OVER TOWN

Astrid Is Wed to Leopold by Socialist MayorBrilliant Ceremony Takes Place in Hall of State.BY MARTIN MARTELIUS.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 4.—"Snow on the bridal crown brings happiness," runs an old Swedish proverb. Early this morning and last night snow fell in the Swedish capital, the northerners welcoming it as a happy omen on the wedding day of Prince Leopold, heir to the throne of Belgium, and Princess Astrid, niece of the king of Sweden.

The ceremony, accompanied by scenes of brilliant splendor unrivaled in the Swedish court, was performed in the beautifully tapestried hall of state in the presence of four kings—those of Belgium, Sweden, Norway, and Denmark—and the queens of Belgium and Denmark. Twenty-four princes and princesses, gorgeously arrayed in court dresses and uniforms, diplomatic representatives, and guests totaling 1,200, also were present.

The civil ceremony was performed by the Socialist mayor of Stockholm, Carl Lindhagen, who read the simple Swedish formula:

"In the virtue of my office, I now declare you man and wife." The completion of the ceremony was the signal for the firing of a salvo of twenty-one guns from the barracks of the capital, while outside vast throngs sang the Swedish national anthem.

Princess Astrid was radiant in her wedding gown of white crepe and satin, flounced with Brussels lace and draped around the waist with orange blossoms. She had a train of white crepe satin four yards long and decorated with silk and silver roses. She wore a crown of myrtle and an old veil. The veil once belonged to the late dowager queen of Sweden.

The bridegroom was a dashing figure in the khaki uniform of the Belgian grenadiers.

Sixteen bridesmaids and groomsmen—princesses and princes—were in attendance. After the ceremony the guests attended a gala banquet given by King Gustav of Sweden in the grand festival hall of the palace, known as the White Sea, owing to its beautiful white stucco walls and shining mirrors.

It is not a bit ladylike, or feminine. It is a habit that men are trying to get out of and that women should not get into.

E. J. Young, 320 East North Water street, salesman—Let the queen do as she sees fit. Let all the queens of this country or Europe—all of them—smoke or not smoke, drink or not drink, or anything or everything else just as each one of them chooses of their own sweet will.

Miss Gwendolyn Junt, 7710 Bishop street, home girl—Those club women were probably looking for notoriety. Let the queen smoke. She is a queen, and has her own rights, anyhow. If a woman really enjoys smoking let her smoke; if not, don't. If she smokes just to show off, don't.

Miss Florence Whitlock, 350 North Michigan avenue, secretary—Well, I don't approve of cigarettes. Smoking is all right if you like it, but I don't particularly care for it. It would be nothing new if this club did send her a disapproving letter; nor would it do any good. She would do as she pleased.

E. E. Hayes, 224 East Huron street, advertising solicitor—I consider those women in the wrong. Women are now entering the business world, the professional world, even the larger world of affairs, and the matter of smoking is inconsequential. It is a matter for every woman to decide for herself.

E. E. Hayes, 224 East Huron street, advertising solicitor—I consider those women in the wrong. Women are now entering the business world, the professional world, even the larger world of affairs, and the matter of smoking is inconsequential. It is a matter for every woman to decide for herself.

Miss Martha Nordgren, 2444 West 23d street, bookkeeper—Seems to me one would hesitate either to approve or disapprove of that letter. I don't smoke, and I don't approve of women smoking. It is not a bit ladylike, or feminine. It is a habit that men are trying to get out of and that women should not get into.

E. J. Young, 320 East North Water street, salesman—Let the queen do as she sees fit. Let all the queens of this country or Europe—all of them—smoke or not smoke, drink or not drink, or anything or everything else just as each one of them chooses of their own sweet will.

Miss Gwendolyn Junt, 7710 Bishop street, home girl—Those club women were probably looking for notoriety. Let the queen smoke. She is a queen, and has her own rights, anyhow. If a woman really enjoys smoking let her smoke; if not, don't. If she smokes just to show off, don't.

Miss Florence Whitlock, 350 North Michigan avenue, secretary—Well, I don't approve of cigarettes. Smoking is all right if you like it, but I don't particularly care for it. It would be nothing new if this club did send her a disapproving letter; nor would it do any good. She would do as she pleased.

Recital Debut
Is Made Here
by BaklanoffAnd, as Was Suspected,
He Is Quite a Singer.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

A baritone made a debut last night, and it looked like a successful one. He was Georges Baklanoff, for a number of years one of the important members of the Chicago Opera, and last night at Orchestra Hall making an appearance in song recital.

In his operatic days Mr. Baklanoff was so striking a stage figure, so well up in the arts of costume and makeup, so ardent in his love making on the few occasions that opera plots permit a baritone to make love, that he sometimes got more credit for these than for his singing. But he can sing. Perhaps his voice is not quite as young as it was when he first came here as a member of Henry Russell's Boston Opera company, but it still has quality, power, and control.

It is good for a sustained melody of the old-time Lully, for a modern song, or for one of those gorgeous operatic arias of Russia, in the last case, from Moussorgsky's "Khovantchika." Whatever he sang was generally tremendous, with a good deal of the same sort of personality that made him attract attention as soon as he stepped upon the operatic stage.

Rather contrary to the normal in such cases, his assisting artists carried about as much artistic weight as he himself. Irene Pavloska was one possessing a mezzo-soprano voice of much beauty, and singing, among others, Faure's "Après un Reve" both skillfully and delightfully. Amy Neill was the other, a notable artist, and high in the ranks of the violinists, whether women or men.

Frans Frau, pianist, and Rafael Spiro, violinist, appeared at Kimball hall in a program of sonatas written for their two instruments by Mozart, Beethoven, and Saint-Saens. Sonata playing as a rule does not call for great virtuosity. It demands a well-developed honest playing, good tone and sincere teamwork, in all of which respects these two artists were successful almost beyond expectation. One suspected as well the possibility of rather brilliant solo performances.

Eugenia Van de Veer, soprano, gave her song recital, postponed a few weeks ago because of illness, at Fine Arts Recital hall. She displayed a light voice of entirely pleasing quality and considerable training which permitted her to cope admirably with an aria from Handel's "Admetus" and Pergolesi's "Nina," but was not quite up to the reckless abandonment of Rossini's "La Danza."

Although visitors to the schools have always been welcome, next week will be devoted entirely to the demonstration to parents and the public the results of Chicago schooling and its actual operation. Exhibits of art work, penmanship, and arithmetic tests will be posted in the school. Assembly drills, exhibitions of physical training, lantern slides, and musicals are calculated to give a cross section of the educational work of the schools.

Except for Armistice day, the public is welcome. All pupils beyond the seventh grade and the teachers were urged in a bulletin yesterday to attend the Armistice day celebration at Orchestra hall. Gen. John F. O'Ryan will speak on "America and World Peace." In addition readings and music are scheduled.

High School Girls to Hold
Interchurch Conference

Four hundred high school girls will attend the tenth annual session of the interchurch girls' conference of Oak Park, River Forest, and Maywood this evening, tomorrow and Sunday. The meeting will be held in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Oak Park avenue and Superior street, Oak Park. Miss Marjorie Carr is chairman of the key girls. The conference speaker will be Miss F. Louise Nardin, dean of women of the University of Wisconsin.

Bright Sayings
of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The saying must be original and never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unsolicited contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunt Sue, The Tribune, Chicago.

One day when little Mary, aged 4, was sitting on the porch a stranger came up to her and said, "Little girl, does your father carry insurance?" Mary immediately replied, "Oh no, sir! He carries ice!" L. M. W.

Tommy went to his cousin Helen's birthday party, and before the afternoon proceeded very far he discovered he was the only boy present.

"Did you have a nice time, dear?" asked mother upon his return.

"Naw, mother," came the ready reply. "I was the only he-fella there." F. A.

CADILLAC

Now is the time to buy comfortable and reliable transportation, for the winter prices prevail. If ever warmth, comfort, and reliability are desired it is in the winter time. And genuine Duco finish is impervious to bad weather.

Chicago winters are long and cold. Street cars and buses will be often unobtainable. Waiting on chilly corners is not pleasant. The solution is to own your own dependable motor car, which is ever at your service, is warm, and is comfortable.

The splendid reputation of new Cadillacs for reliability, performance, and comfort is already established. We have in our stock some of the current models—new, improved Cadillacs—which have been driven some few thousand miles and are in an almost new condition, inside and out—in finish and mechanical condition. They are prepared to give you the same winter service.

These cars are sold at a substantial reduction. If you are looking for a car in this price class, look these values over before buying. They are better than any new car of equal cost.

They carry the regular new car warranty and can be bought on the GMAC time purchase plan.

Your present car can be taken in trade as part payment.

Each car advertised below has received a substantial reduction in price and offers the buyer an opportunity to get a fine used automobile at a remarkable saving. And they are all protected by Studebaker's famous Used Car Pledge.
